NEWTON CASEY IS STILL A FUGITIVE

Paroled "Bootlegger" Successfully Eludes Police After Raid on His Rooms.

SEEN GOING TOWARD MILROY

If he is Ever Captured, Governor Ralston's Attention Will be Called to Case.

Newton Casey, paroled by Governor Ralston on a "bootlegging" charge, has successfully eluded the police since the raid yesterday on his rooms over the August Roth pool room in which twenty quarts of whiskey were found in various parts of the place.

That Casey should make an attempt to elude the police is only to be expected as his capture would mean the revoking of his parole by Governor Ralston. The police watched the Casey rooms for many hours yesterday, but he did not put in an appearance. His son, Eddie Casey, believed by the police to be equally guilty with his father, Newton, succeeded in entering the rooms last evening about five o'clock and then made his escape.

Eddie Casey was said to have been in Connersville yesterday and when he appeared at the rooms, someone warned him that the place had been raided and that the police were looking for him and his father. Eddie Casey turned the key to the place over to John Vanatta, who occupies a room in the same building. Vanatta was told to clean up the Casey apartment. The police did not see Eddie Casey as he appeared at the rooms at a time when it happened that the police were not there.

Today the police succeeded in getting a line on Newton Casey. He was seen between this city and Milroy about two-thirty o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was riding in a buggy with Charles Perkins, it was stated today, although the police had not confirmed the report from Perkins. The police believe Casey went to Milroy and there took a train for the south.

Newton Casey never returned to the rooms after the police raided the place. This is shown by the fact that his clothes and his gold watch were still there this morning when Chief Rosencrance visited the place. The police intended to investigate this afternoon the report that Casey was aided in his effort to escape. The police will not go to any great extremes in obtaining the arrest of Casey, as they believe the city is better off without his presence.

If Casey ever returns, or is captured, the attention of Governor Ralston will be brought to the case, as it is pointed out Casey clearly violated his parole. Judge Sparks let it be known this morning that he would notify the governor in case the man was captured. The court has no jurisdiction over the parole, as that is up to Governor Ralston.

A story in circulation today to the effect that Casey and Mrs. Jessie Clemmons had "broken" and that to get even with him she tipped the Casey place off to the police, was denied by Chief Rosencrance. Casey brought the Clemmons woman here with him last Saturday night and it is understood, that they were to be married. The story on the streets was that Casey wanted to put the marriage off a little while and that she quarreled with him because of this.

All of this is denied by the police as furnishing any clew on the raid. The police stated that they were informed that a shipment of four or

BARN NEAR RALEIGH BURNS

Horse, 16 Tons of Hay and Farming Implements Are Consumed.

A barn on the Edgar Herbert farm, northeast of Raleigh, burned last evening about five o'clock, with a loss estimated at $1,500. The origin is unknown. One horse perished in the flames. The barn was a rather large one and contained besides a large number of farming implements, sixteen tons of hay. When discovered the entire barn was in flames and it was impossible to save the horses. The loss was only partially covered by insurance.

JUDGE GIVES BERT NEWMAN A CHANCE

Sentence of Two to Fourteen Years at State Reformatory is Suspended by Court.

PUT ON HIS GOOD BEHAVIOR

Bert Newman, 18 years old, was given a chance today by Judge Sparks to make good his promise of good behavior in the future. Newman was charged with burglary in the second degree and a sentence of from two to fourteen years was suspended by the court.

Young Newman was charged with breaking into the garage of Dr. Will Smith and previously had entered a plea of not guilty with the proviso that he was not "any more guilty than the other boy." This morning when brought into court he changed his plea and asked for mercy of the court. Judge Sparks told the boy what he was expected to do in order to keep out of the reformatory at Jeffersonville. The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Newman, were in court and Judge Sparks told them that they should help the boy keep out of trouble.

HAS 7 BROTHERS WITH THE ALLIES

No One Watches War News More Closely than Does Rev. D. L. Milligan.

ONE SHOT DURING BATTLE

No one watches the news from the battle-fronts of the old world more closely than does the Rev. D. L. Milligan, pastor of the Christian church at Arlington. The reason for the Rev. Mr. Milligan's keen interest in the great conflict is that he has seven brothers who are engaged in the war on the side of the allies, four of them in the army and three of them in the navy.

The Arlington pastor was here today attending the Rush County Sunday School Association convention, and told several of his interest in the war. He received news lately that one of his brothers was shot in the back and in the knee but that his injuries were not so serious but that he would recover. Another of his brothers was in the latest great battle on the western front and he is waiting daily for news from that conflict to see if his brother still lives.

R. L. Tompkins Wednesday bought John P. Frazee's interest in the J. D. Case lumber yard which Mr. Tompkins and Mr. Frazee recently purchased from Mr. Case.

BRINGS TOTAL OF CONVERTS TO 13

Three More Additions Wednesday Night at Revival at Main Street Christian Church.

BASKET DINNER ON SUNDAY

Question Box is Instituted by the Evangelist—No Services at U. P. Church Tonight.

That interest in the revival being conducted by the Rev. J. H. O. Smith and the Rev. H. H. Saunders at the Main Street Christian church is increasing each night is found in the fact that the crowds grow larger and the additions to the church continue.

Wednesday night there were three additions, bringing the number thus far in the four night meetings up to thirteen. There was a special number on the musical program last night by a mixed quartet and also a solo by the Rev. Mr. Saunders.

A basket dinner will be the feature of the meeting Sunday. Services will be held morning, afternoon and night. It was also announced today that the Rev. Mr. Smith had instituted a question box and that he would answer all questions deposited in it.

On account of the county Sunday school convention being held at the United Presbyterian church today, there will be no service in connection with the revival at that church tonight. The Rev. S. R. Jamieson returned this morning to his home in Oxford, Ohio, but will come back here Friday in time for services Friday evening. He preached last night on the theme, "Weighed and Found Wanting."

Speaking on the theme, "The Hidden and Revealed," Evangelist J. H. O. Smith said last night at the Main Street Christian church:

"From Matt. 11:25; 'I thank thee oh Father, Lord of Heaven and earth, that Thou has hid these things from the wise and prudent and hast revealed them unto babes.' Luke records this thanksgiving of the Saviour upon the return of the seventy who had been sent out to preach the coming kingdom, and with power to heal the sick. They gathered around the Master and reported the happy experience of their mission and the Saviour thanked God that they had learned the happiness there is in helping others."

"Secret things belong unto the Lord our God. Some things we can never know. Some problems we can never solve; too much of the equation is unknown. The finite cannot comprehend the infinite. As the horizon of the known expands the circumference of the unknown enlarges. There are some questions above reason; the how of the incarnation, the why of the crucifixion and the vicarious sacrifice of Christ, the when of the judgment."

"All the realm of science, electricity, astronomy, geology and agricultural belonged to the realm of things that God has neither hidden from us nor revealed to us. God does not do for us what we can do for ourselves. The struggle to discover and apply the forces and resources of our world is necessary to our development. Man has surmounted the enumerable barriers that surrounded him and the conquests has strengthened him as the eagle grows strong in resisting storm. The prowess of man's genius has touched all the harbors of the world. He has wooed and won from the heavens the secret of their silence and science like a phonograph has reproduced the music of the spirit. We are dependent upon scientists and philosophers for our

HOLDS VERDICT INCONSISTENT

Judge Sparks Grants Motion For New Trial, Brought by Plaintiff Which Won The Suit

AN UNUSUAL SITUATION

Two Old Cases Which Have Been on Docket Since March, 1912 Are Dismissed Divorce Granted

In granting a motion for a new trial this morning in the case of the International Text Book company against Shock D. Cecil, Judge Sparks held that the verdict of the jury was inconsistent. The suit was brought on a contract on which $68 was demanded. When the case was tried the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $17.50.

The motion for a new trial was filed by the Text Book company, despite the fact that it had won the suit. The company was not satisfied with the verdict. Judge Sparks ruled that the jury should have awarded the plaintiff $68, the amount demanded, or nothing.

Old cases on the docket continue to be taken off. Two that have been there since March, 1912 were removed this morning by dismissal. These cases were those of John W. Wainwright against the P. H. and F. M. Roots Company et al., of Connersville. One was for mandate and the other was an injunction suit. Both cases were sent here on a change of venue. The motion for dismissal in both cases was filed by the plaintiff.

The case of Walter E. Smith against Bert Osborn to foreclose a mortgage was dismissed and the costs paid. The case of Edith E. Smith against Ray Carpenter was also dismissed and the costs paid. It was also a case to foreclose a mortgage.

Mrs. Mary I. Doyle was granted a divorce from William Doyle by Judge Sparks upon payment of the costs. She was also given the custody of their child. Mrs. Doyle alleged cruel and inhuman treatment and failure to provide. He did not appear against her and his present whereabouts are unknown to her.

In the revised court calendar as prepared by Judge Sparks there will be no jury cases until the second week of the November term. The term will open next Monday as provided by law, but is likely that the first week will be very quiet. The new calendar is as follows:

ATTACKS SECTION 10 OF PRIMARY LAW

Carl Mote Brings Action Against Part Which May Keep Progressives From Affiliating.

SAYS HE IS A REPUBLICAN

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 11.—Carl A. Mote today filed suit in the circuit court here attacking the constitutionality of section 10 of the primary law which would prevent those who voted the Progressive ticket at the last election taking part in the next primaries with either of the old parties. Mote said he was a Progressive but is now a Republican. Mote's suit is understood to have the backing of the Republican state central committee.

Mote was actively engaged during the recent legislature drawing up various primary bills. He drew up the bill that Representative Jones first submitted to the house.

HOG SERUM PLANT TO BE BUILT HERE

Option on 70 Acres of Land South of Here Secured by Company Incorporated for $100,000.

WORK TO BE STARTED AT ONCE

An option on seventy acres of land on the old Joe Caldwell farm, south of Rushville, where it is intended to manufacture hog serum on a commercial scale, has been secured by the National Serum company. The National Serum company is now engaged in selling stock, and it was stated here today that Rushville would get this new industry regardless of whether a cent's worth of stock was sold in this county.

The company is incorporated for $100,000 and it is hoped to start the manufacture of the serum here within sixty or ninety days. The company is backed by veterinarians and hog breeders all over the state. Rush county was selected for the plant because it is the largest hog raising county in the state, and one of the largest in the United States. The serum will be sold direct to the farmers. The incorporators are Dr. J. J. Heron, Tipton; O. E. Anthony, Indianapolis; John L. McFarland, Indianapolis; Dr. A. L. Marvel, Owensville; Dr. H. A. Sailor, Wabash; Dr. L. E. Conoway, Swayzee; Dr. C. E. Powers, Attica; Dr. H. F. Huntington, New Palestine; Dr. Rice, Rockville, and Dr. Lett, of Columbus.

Charles G. McCoy and Addie Garrett have filed a partition suit against Rebecca McCoy and Herschel McCoy.

CYCLONE CUTS SWATH IN WEST

Death and Destruction Follow in Path of 20-Mile-Wide Hurricane in 4 States.

DEATH TOLL MAY REACH 60

Wire Communications Are Paralyzed and Reports of Destruction Can't be Confirmed

(By United Press.)

Kansas City, Nov. 11.—Six mid-west states were hit by the tornado which apparently started south of Great Bend, Kas., shortly after nightfall last night and continued all night.

Many known dead, hundreds injured, and many million dollars worth of damage to buildings, live stock and crops was today's estimate of the storm's toll based on reports reaching here on still shaky telephone and telegraph wires.

Four were killed and sixty injured under falling buildings at Great Bend where the storm struck hardest.

Three were killed at Zyea, Kansas, and several injured. One man was killed and several injured when a freight car was blown over at Derby.

Several persons were injured at Hartford, S. D. One man was killed at Hoopston, Ill., when the wind blew down a factory. Several places in Nebraska and Iowa reported heavy damage by rain and wind. At Marshfield, Wis., buildings were blown down, live stock killed and many structures unroofed.

Death and destruction followed in the twenty-mile-wide path left by the cyclone which swept Central Kansas last night and early today. Wire communications are completely paralyzed in some sections and reports that loss of life may reach anywhere from 15 to 60 could not be confirmed. It was believed this estimate was high.

The storm area extended from southern Kansas to as far north as the vicinity of Sioux Falls, S. D., where a tornado struck the town of Hartford, wrecked the electric light plant and injured four persons.

Messages reaching the Missouri Pacific Railroad offices said that the scope of the Kansas tornado was an area at least sixteen miles wide. The messages added that several houses in Claflin, Kas., fourteen miles from Hoisington, were demolished.

Many buildings at Hoisington were swept into a heap of debris. The storm passed over the south part of the town, wrecking the water works and electric light plant. The town is in darkness and confusion reigns.

According to reports which reached the long-distance telephone office here before wire communication was broken off, the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway station was demolished and half the houses of the city were wrecked. Three large flour mills and a number of grain elevators were in the path of the storm.

Nearly every house in Great Bend, it is reported, has been blown down. Hundreds of persons are believed to have been injured. All wire communication failed after the first brief bulletins were received here over the telephone wire from the Great Bend telephone operator.

Early reports said that Fremont, Neb., had been wiped out, but it was learned later that only a light rain fell there.

Meager telephone reports from the vicinity of Great Bend say a school house lying in the path of the storm was demolished. Fires broke out in many homes, but the heavy deluge of rain which followed extinguished them in many cases.

At Pratt, south of Great Bend, four and one-half inches of rain is reported to have fallen.

NIGHT MEETING TO CLOSE CONVENTION

New and Effective Organization For Sunday School Association Planned This Afternoon.

STATE SECRETARY, SPEAKER

The annual convention of the Rush County Sunday school association, which was in session at the United Presbyterian church today, will close with a meeting tonight at 7:30, which will be addressed by Geo. N. Burnie, of Indianapolis, secretary of the state association, on the topic, "The Sunday School Seed."

There were only thirty persons in attendance this morning, but the majority of them were delegates. Most of the Sunday schools from outside the city were represented by the ministers of the church. It was expected that the attendance would be much larger this afternoon and tonight. The chief address by Mr. Burnie this morning was on the subject, "Graduation—Why?" and this afternoon his topic was, "Knit to Fit." This morning reports of the schools were heard and each representative present was asked to tell the two best things their school has now or expect to have. An open discussion on how attendance may be increased was conducted this afternoon.

County Sunday school work has been rather disorganized for the last two or three years and an effort was being made this afternoon to reorganize the work and elect an efficient set of officers.

SAY LINER FLED FROM THE U-BOAT

Dispatches Reaching Rome Declare Ancona Did Not Hove to Until She Was Overhauled

ABOUT 176 PERSONS DIED

Surviving Officers of Italian Liner Say She Was Halted as Soon as She Was Signaled.

(By United Press.)

Rome, Nov. 11.—Whether the Italian liner Ancona's passengers were slaughtered by shell fire while the liner was fleeing from the submarine or were mowed down by shrapnel after she had been brought to a halt had not been absolutely settled today.

Fresh messages containing stories of survivors frittered in today but they were contradictory. A Tunis dispatch quoted the Ancona's surviving officers as declaring the vessel hove to as soon as the submarine commanded her to halt. Other dispatches carried description of the chase as the fifteen knot liner attempted to outdistance the swift submersible.

All reports agreed that the submarine's shrapnel shells took a bloody toll on the women and children who crowded, terror-stricken, to the deck. The latest dispatches left the loss of life in doubt because of the large discrepancies in reports of the number aboard. The reports agreed that 300 or more were saved. Reports of Americans aboard varied much.

That the Italian liner Ancona fled from the Austrian submarine that attacked her while her wireless sent out calls for help, was reported in the majority of dispatches that reached here today.

One or two correspondents sent word that the Ancona halted immediately when challenged by the submarine and was then struck before her passengers could escape. But most reports agreed that the liner took flight and only hove to when the submarine overhauled her and poured shrapnel upon her deck.

Reports today indicated that about 176 persons perished. Only eleven Americans were aboard the Ancona, the Societa Italia states today. Mrs. Cecile Greil was the only native born American citizen, it was stated. The others were ten Italians who had become naturalized American citizens.

CHARGE THAT CREW ACTED INHUMANLY

Survivors of Italian Liner Ancona

Say Submarine Fired on Life Boats Afloat

BATTLE FOR LIFE ON VESSEL

(By United Press.)

Malta, Nov. 11.—Scenes of wild panic preceded the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona. Men fought over blood-spattered decks for places in the life boats. Shrieking, terror-stricken women leaped into the sea, some with children in their arms. Passengers badly wounded by the submarine's shrapnel and unable to move went down with the steamer. These were the stories of passengers and members of the crew, brought here today. Possibly all the forty-five survivors landed a Malta were Italians. They accused the Austrian submarine crew of inhuman action and declared they fired deliberately on women and children in the life boats.

IS AFTERMATH OF RECENT TROUBLE

Emma Moore Brings Suit For Divorce From William Moore Following Connersville Quarrel.

FINALLY SEPARATED MONDAY

As an aftermath of the fight Monday in Connersville, Mrs. Emma Moore today filed suit for divorce from William (Sorrel) Moore, demanding the custody of their two minor children and $1,000 alimony. Moore paid a fine in Connersville for beating his wife and this is the date given in the complaint as the day the final separation resulted.

Mrs. Moore alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and alleges that he is a constant user to excess of intoxicating liquor. She maintains that when in this condition he treats her violently and abuses both her and their children. Mrs. Moore alleges that he frequently cursed her and on their final separation threatened to kill her, drawing a razor on her. According to the complaint they were married July 28, 1892. Chauncey Duncan represents Mrs. Moore.

WILL SUSTAIN BOARD'S ACTION

District Convention of Women's Franchise League Concurs Boards Resolution.

REMOVING MRS. S. C. STIMSON

(By United Press.)

Huntington, Ind., Nov. 11.—Following a speech by Dr. Amelia Keller in which she accused Mrs. S. C. Stimson of disloyalty to the Women's Franchise League of Indiana the district convention today voted to support the action of the state board in asking Mrs. Stimson to withdraw as a member.

Dr. Keller is president of the state organization. She declared that the proposition of "church" had nothing to do with the Terre Haute Woman's case.

"You ought to know why the action was taken," she said.

It is understood that the opposition to Mrs. Stimson was aroused by the fact that she supported Mrs. Clarke Fairbanks of Fort Wayne for presidency of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Fairbanks was opposed by the Franchise League.

Amusements

The Princess offers a three act drama "The Whirlpool" for the program tonight. Nell Craig and Warda Howard are featured. It is a society drama and is said to contain many beautiful scenes. Tomorrow night the big feature "Vanity Fair" will be shown.

That colossal film masterpiece, "Vanity Fair" with Mrs. Fiske in the role of Becky Sharp, comes to the Princess theatre Friday, matinee and night. This is a production and easily the greatest ever executed by that well known maker of good pictures. Also, it is conspicuous as the first Edison offering on the newly organized Kleine-Edison Feature Service program.

Needless to say a production of

sufficient size to warrant the engagement of Mrs. Fiske is no ordinary film venture. More than four hundred people were employed in many of the big scenes, notably the one which portrays Lady Richardson's ball in Brussels. This scene is in itself elaborate enough to stamp "Vanity Fair" an extraordinary production. The antique curio shops of Manhattan were ransacked for hanging and furniture of the period and the entire mammoth floor of the Edison studio was utilized.

In filming the great classic, the Edison producer made no effort to follow the devious plot of Thackeray's novel. The bare outline with the principal characters of the drama are enough to charge seven reels of film with snap and action. It is one of the genuine film masterpieces of the last two years and will undoubtedly prove immensely popular.

The Gem will show a three reel feature "The Surrender" for the program tonight. Marie Walcamp is featured and it tells a love story of the factory district. A rescue from the white slavers is one of the thrilling scenes. Tomorrow Cleo Madison will be seen in the drama "The Pine's Revenge." The four part spectacular race drama "The Suburban" will be shown Saturday.

More Reflection

"Duty-free imports comprised 71.6 per cent of the total imports for September, 1915, and 61 per cent of those of September, 1914. Their increased percentage this year reflects the marked growth in imports of factory materials, mostly on the free list." This is quoted from the advance statement of our September trade, issued by the Department of Commerce.

A great many other things are reflected in that paragraph. It also reflects the marked growth in imports of meat and dairy products, farm products generally, fish, etc., which are coming in free of duty. But it does not reflect any decrease in the cost of living. The reason why the average rate of duty on all imports for the past year hovers between 11 and 12 per cent is reflected therein, which, in turn reflects the reason for the fat deficit in the Treasury. It reflects the reason why the Administration would like to file Republican plumage and restore sugar, wool, and other articles, to Republican rates, with the declaration that it is "primarily for revenue, with incidental protection," and this sudden conversion reflects the approach of campaign year. It reflects so much that it gives good cause for reflection, and that is exactly what the American people are doing today. The result of that reflection will find Uncle Sam, in 1917, ready for the gong to sound which announces the beginning of the battle royal for commercial supremacy that is scheduled to take place with the cessation of war. It means the return of the Federal Government to a sound business basis, and that means restoration of the Republicans to power. You can't stop 'em.

"Not Expedient."

At last the long-promised note on Great Britain's commercial warfare against America, which has been waiting for more than three months, like a ship stuck on the ways, is reported to be on its way to London. But meanwhile new orders in council have been issued still farther flouting America's rights on the high seas. England finds it "not expedient" to admit that the American flag exempts a ship from confiscation!

One of the pro-Ally papers, objects to "foreign influences" within the United States. To this all Americans must agree, and the rule should be applied to those foreign influences that up hold the hampering of American commerce on the high seas as well as to those foreign influences that deal in contrivances to cripple ships sailing hence with supplies for the Allies. Americans have a right to be indignantly intolerant of all such interferences with our lawful rights, whether the outrage is committed here or on the high seas.

The American Industrial Education Exposition is the high-sounding name of a show which recently held Madison Square Garden for a week. That it lived up to its name, however, and was there with the goods is shown by this extract from a newspaper report of the affair: "The most daring feature of the show is a chart, in the booth which advocates character-analysis by reading the face, illustrated by a picture of the President of the United States, and saying that Woodrow Wilson's greatest fault is procrastination."

A gossip is a person who makes a big something out of a little nothing.

And now some cuss remarks that courtship is a preface to hardship.

Never insist upon a woman doing a thing that you really want done.

Get rid of the hyphen. You are an American or you are not.

Who wants war bad enough to hop into the front rank himself?

Peace talk is up in the air again—and so are the talkers.

We appear to have overlooked the high price of funerals.

The tombstone business is looking up on the border.

But perhaps our dove of peace is a buzzard.

Current Comments

Bryan's Attack.

(Cincinnati Enquirer.)

The attack of Bryan upon President Wilson's address at the Manhattan Club, New York, in which the President announced his policy of preparing for the country's defense emphasizes the differences in the opinions of the present and those of the ex-leader of the Democratic party.

That such differences existed was demonstrated and acknowledged by the resignation of Mr. Bryan as Secretary of State. To those familiar with Mr. Bryan's persistent adherence to theories, original or adopted, his constancy in unsuccessful efforts to make conditions to fit his theories rather than to follow that course of practical and successful statesmanship which strives for the very best attainable results, this attack was not unexpected.

The Mexican policy of the Administration, a policy that this country and Mexico has suffered from since the very advent of the Administration, and from which the Administration suffered at the elections of November, 1914, and 1915, can be properly termed Mr. Bryan's, and it is an example, not only of the absurdity of theories in face of conditions to which they do not apply, but of the serious and grave injuries that such impracticable and deplorable official actions reflect upon the people subject to the results of the malpractice.

Mr. Bryan's resignation as Secretary of State invoked no expression of regret from the American people, as the vast majority desired a radical change from the failure of the Administration to protect American citizens upon the land and upon the sea. Whether they were or were not correct in the thought, they believed that Mr. Bryan was so wedded to his theories of non-defense of these rights by force that continued humiliation would be the lot of the nation if he remained in that office.

The President now has to bear the burden of Mr. Bryan's failures in the State Department while at its head and of the attacks upon policies which Mr. Bryan now finds fault with, but his two years of work in that department and the public estimate of that work have so weakened Mr. Bryan's hold upon the electorate of the country, reduced the public's valuation of him as a practical statesman, that his recent declaration of hostility to the President's policy of preparedness will have but minor effect.

At this time it is obvious that Mr. Bryan's record in the State Department is and will be a source of weakness to the Administration, and it is equally obvious that Mr. Bryan, outside of the Cabinet, is so frank and outspoken an opponent, so keen a critic and so ready to assail what he deems to be its mistakes, errors and shortcomings that he cannot longer be useful to the Administration in a political way, even if he desired to be.

The Administration is now bound to make this effort for preparedness for defense. The great majority of the people are with the President in this policy, and they give it their full approval.

As the leader of his party President Wilson will undoubtedly by given the party support, but Mr. Bryan will be found equally as determined to defeat the President's efforts to safeguard the country through enlarging the army and increasing the power of the navy.

That Mr. Bryan may be sincere in his theory does not diminish its folly. That in opposing preparedness he is consistent with himself adds nothing to the soundness of his position and should not be accepted as a certificate of the wisdom of his proposition.

To sum up the situation, the country is with the President for defense and rejects Mr. Bryan's views upon the subject.

Wilson's Influence.

(Columbus Republican.)

It is rather significant of the popular sentiment that Walsh, former governor of Massachusetts, running for re-election on the democratic ticket, refused to enter into a discussion of national issues, and was defeated. He attempted to "run on his own hook," and all the people turned him down, of course by a slight majority. The people today want to know where a candidate stands in regard to Wilson. They have faith in Wilson.—Rushville Jacksonian.

Yes, they have, with a vengeance. Take New Jersey, the President's home state, for instance. Prior to the recent suffrage election in that state, Mr. Wilson, with a great flourish of trumpets, announced his conversion to the "votes for women" cause and the further fact of his intention to support it at the ensuing election—not as a democrat, not as a partisan, but as a private citizen, thus giving his personal popularity full sway, and the result, as is known, was the overwhelming defeat of the women's cause, not, perhaps, because of the President's spectacular support, but in spite of it. This shows the quality of the faith the people have in Mr. Wilson. Then, again, on November 2, a state election was held in New Jersey—the membership of the Legislature was to be elected, this body to in turn elect some of the state officers. The President considered the matter of such importance that he hustled home to cast his vote for democracy—not, perhaps, with so much clamor as he announced his intention relative to the suffrage election—and what was the result? The state went republican by a substantial majority; the Legislature elected is republican surely and safely and will fill such of the state offices as necessary with Republicans. Had Mr. Wilson made as much noise about his intention to vote for democracy and free trade in the latest Jersey election, the people's faith in him would have been expressed in a minority so infinitesimal as to be just about invisible. If Mr. Wilson is the best the democracy has to put up for the presidency next fall what the reunited republicans will do for that party and its presidential ticket will be amply sufficient.

Do You Feel Head- achy? Look to Your Stomach

It is an unusual thing for a druggist to sell medicine under a guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. Yet this is the way Johnson's Drug Store, the popular druggist, are selling Mi-o-na, the standard dyspepsia remedy.

Never before have they had so large a number of customers tell them that a medicine has been successful as with Mi-o-na. People who a few months ago looked like walking skeletons have put on flesh and today are ruddy and vigorous with perfect digestion and good health.

There is no longer any need for anyone suffering or making their friends suffer on account of dyspepsia. Mi-o-na can always be relied upon. The percentage of cures is so great that there is little risk to Johnson's Drug store in guaranteeing to return the money if the medicine does not relieve. And they stand ready to do so without any questions.

Headaches, all forms of indigestion, specks before the eyes, dizzy feelings, and all forms of liver trouble are helped by Mi-o-na. A few days' treatment should show considerable gain in health while a complete cure often follows rapidly.

ROMANCE BACK OF JAIL PLOT

Miss Nellie Seals of Indianapolis

Alleged to Have Obtained Tools
For Prisoners.

DELIVERY IS FRUSTRATED

Just as Advertised, Sheriff's Deputies

Pounce on Men at Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 11.—Sheriff John D. Miller's jail delivery for which he and several armed guards had been waiting patiently for two days and two nights, took place "as advertised" at 10:30 last night. When William Morris, leader of the plotters, including an alleged murderer, crawled through the fourteen-inch tunnel in the steel and brick wall of the county jail, the sheriff's outside watchers, with weapons drawn, rushed upon him in true "movie" style. Officers in the jail bore down upon the inner end of the hole and caught four other prisoners awaiting their turns to escape.

All of them admitted their part in the plot. Only one man in the jail, who was writing a letter in his cell, denied complicity.

Sheriff Miller declares that the plot was the result of the love of Miss Nellie Seals, 18 years old, of Indianapolis, for Charles Lawson, 23 years old, of Lafayette, who is awaiting trial for the murder of Nightwatchman August Seallon at Delphi. The girl is held as a witness in the case of her stepfather, Albert St. Claire, charged with forgery.

She is said to have obtained the tools used by the jail-breakers when she went to Lafayette last Friday in company with an attorney to seek evidence in defense of her father. With money given her by the lawyer, C. D. Layman, for her dinner, she is supposed to have bought a saw and chisel. The girl denies any knowledge of the plot. She and her mother were locked upstairs in jail when the break was made.

The work of cutting through the steel plate and brick wall of the jail had been going on for three days. The prisoners cut around a patch placed on the plate after five prisoners cut through it and escaped October 10, 1911.

An improvised dictaphone connecting the jail wall and a garage in which some of the waiting officers were hidden kept the sheriff informed of the progress of the work.

The prisoners were in ignorance of the betrayal of their plans by two alleged horse thieves removed from the jail a few days ago to be returned to Michigan.

The hole is 16 inches square and fourteen inches long. A circular saw, a hack saw made from a case-knife, a chisel and several pieces of an iron bar, with which the work had been done, were found in the jail when the plot was balked.

The men involved in the plot are William Morris, Lachean, Quebec, and Frank Collins, Cedar Rapids, Ia., charged with robbing a clover Leaf merchandising car; Charles Lawson, Lafayette, charged with murder, and Vance Lawson and Oscar Lawson, witnesses in the murder. Albert St. Claire, who was returned here from Lafayette to be tried Nov. 17 for forgery asserted he was sick and did not care to escape.

Morris and Collins will be charged with jailbreaking, but if evidence is found to support the charge of robbing a railroad car in interstate traffic they will be surrendered to the Federal authorities. The additional charge of jailbreaking will not be placed against the other prisoners. Morris and Collins were arrested Nov. 4, both of them being attired in new suits of clothing.

Mrs. St. Claire and her daughter, the Seals girl, are held as witnesses against St. Claire, but they both are wanted at Logansport for alleged forgery. They probably will be surrendered to the Cass county sheriff after St. Claire's trial here.

Sheriff Miller was assisted in his vigil by Deputy Sheriff John W. Pence, Chief of Police Walter D. Corns, Patrolmen Fryback, Hill,

BREAK UP BRONCHIAL COUGHS, CROUP AND COLDS PROMPTLY

Make the Best Remedy at Home— 128 Teaspoonful For 50 Cents.

Don't neglect your first cold, cough or any Bronchial affection, this fall, but commence treatment immediately, and through using the proper medicine, it can be checked from the very start and promptly cured, but if neglected probably will hang on all winter; if it does not develop into something more serious, such as Pneumonia or consumption. True, there are hundreds, yes thousands of cough remedies on the market. While some are good, there are many which are not, but are positively harmful, due to the narcotics which they contain. But why experiment with these different remedies purely on the strength perhaps of some testimonials or on the exaggerated claims of manufacturers, when Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expecto-rant is sold by Fox Bros. on such a positive guarantee to give perfect satisfaction, yes even more—money will be refunded by them if it is not found the best remedy ever used in Severe Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough or Croup, and it will also be found excellent for Bronchial Asthma and Bronchitis. Besides these druggists guaranteeing "that it will be the best remedy ever used," it will likewise be found the most economical, because one bottle (50 cents' worth) makes a full pint (128 teaspoonful) of the most excellent medicine for any of the above affections, when mixed at home with one pint of sugar and one half pint of water. It makes as much or more, than would cost you $2.00 to $3.00 of almost any of the ordinary ready-made kinds, sold in bottles holding only 24 to 32 teaspoonful. You will be the sole judge yourself and under the same positively "Money Back" guarantee which the druggists make for the famous Asthmador. Absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy.

(Advertisement.)

Cretchfield, Douglass and McDonald and several newspaper men.

Frankfort citizens had displayed great interest in the show, but Sheriff Miller sold no tickets and there were no passes. The police kept the public away from the jail yard. The citizens had to be content with a debate on the subject, "Should the sheriff have seized the conspirators instead of allowing them to complete the tunnel?" Miller's friends argued that, since the steel plate had been cut before he discovered the plot and it would be necessary to tear out the brick wall to make repairs, it was well to allow the prisoners to do the work without expense to the county. The "antis" contended that he was taking unnecessary risk of losing the prisoners. The debate was a draw.

MORTON'S BAR SPEECH

The October election in Indiana was followed by the national election in November, resulting in the election of Lincoln to the presidency. South Carolina headed the procession of the Southern states from the union. All was doubt, uncertainty and confusion as to what should be done. Should the South be "coerced" or permitted to withdraw peaceably? The Indianapolis Journal along with Greeley counseled the latter course. The Man of the Hour appeared in the famous war speech at the courthouse at the capital in which he pointed out the unerring logic the course which the new administration was to adopt.

GREENSBURG BOY WINS CONTEST

Gordon Clevenger Awarded First For Prize Essay on Fire Prevention by Fire Marshal.

EVANSVILLE YOUTH SECOND

Power to Enforce State Officer's Orders Invoked When Newcastle Buildings Are Torn Down.

First prize in the Fire Prevention Essay Contest held recently by the State Fire Marshal, has been awarded to Gordon Clevenger, a student in the Greensburg High School, second prize going to Heiman Blatt of the Evansville High school. First place pays the winner $15, second receiving $10. The judges gave honorable mention to the manuscripts written by Miss Nell McCarty, Ft. Branch High School and Miss Uzetka Monroe, Warren High school. Essays receiving special consideration were submitted by Paul G. Brewster, Oakland City; F. Edwin Purple, Hagerstown, and David Lilienthal, Michigan City.

The judges in the contest were chosen from the Fire Marshal Department and from the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The purpose of the contest to stimulate interest among the high school students in Fire Prevention, was accomplished. The State library received numerous requests for material published on Fire Prevention and the high school principals rendered material aid in making the contest a success.

Tears Down Building.

Power to enforce his orders by tearing down dilapidated buildings on the failure of owners to comply with tear-down orders was invoked by the Fire Marshal recently for the first time in Newcastle when his operatives removed a group of old dilapidated buildings belonging to Martin Dolan, situated on Broad street and the L. E. & W. Railroad. Following the issuance of the order by the Fire Marshal, the owner appealed to the Henry County Circuit Court for a review of the order which directed him to tear down his buildings. The court affirmed the order of the Fire Marshal on appeal and fixed the date for compliance as April 24, 1915. The owner having failed to comply with the order as affirmed by the Court on that date, his buildings were razed by the Department. The Indiana statutes provide that the expense of such removal shall be charged to the owner. His failure to pay the costs within thirty days results in adding a penalty of 25 per cent. to the costs. The entire amount is then placed on the tax duplicate and collected as taxes, becoming a lien on the real estate on which the buildings stood.

DR. J.W. WHITE DIES AT KNIGHTSTOWN

Pioneer Dentist and Prominent Resident Expires Following Illness With Intestinal Trouble.

FUNERAL SET FOR THURSDAY

Knightstown, Ind., Nov. 11.—The funeral services of Dr. J. W. White, age eighty-two years, pioneer dentist and one of the pioneer residents of this place, whose death occurred Tuesday, was held at the late residence here this afternoon at two-thirty o'clock. Interment took place in the Knightstown cemetery.

His death followed a serious illness of one week from intestinal trouble. He had been in poor health for some time, but for several months had seemingly regained his health.

Dr. White was born in Lebanon, O., June 27, 1833, the eldest son of Levi and Sarah White. He came to Knightstown while a young man and had been a practicing dentist in Knightstown for sixty-four years, but the past four or five years has been practically retired because of ill health. He was married Nov. 24, 1856, to Harriet Edwards, who survives him. He is also survived by three sons, John Omer of Indianapolis, Erie T. of Omaha, Neb., and Dr. Morris L. of Indianapolis, and two daughters, Mrs. Leora Hill of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Carrie Gregory of Knightstown.

Dr. White was a charter member of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, a prominent Mason, staunch worker in the Knightstown M. E. church, and a prominent member of the Henry County Historical society.

WINS A PRACTICE GAME

High School Five Defeats Red Men's Quintet, 34 to 17.

In the first practice game of the season the high school five last night defeated the Red Men's Athletic team 34 to 17. The game was played in the new gymnasium at the Graham Annex and was considered fast for a starter. Coach Burns gave all of his men a chance to get in the game and the contest was good practice for the boys. For a time the Red Men put up a good game and held the score down, but the practice and training of the high school team soon showed and the score was doubled by the time the game ended.

Newton Casey was seen on the streets at eleven-thirty o'clock yesterday morning. At this time the police were in his rooms. Because of this it is reasonable to suppose, the police say, that he was tipped off to the raid and thus made his escape

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 11.—If a pet cow at the Ohio State University farm had not given up the dairy trade for the banking and junk business she still would be munching hay.

YEGGS AGAIN IN WAYNE COUNTY

Loot Greensfork Postoffice and Burglarize Store at Economy all in One Night.

USE AN AUTO TO MAKE ESCAPE

Ninth Robbery of Federal Offices in County in Year Arouse People to Renewed Search.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 11.—A post-office robbery at Greensfork—the first there but the ninth in this community within a year—and a burglary of a store at Economy, were the crime developments in the county during the early morning Wednesday.

The robbery of the postoffice, which marked the advent of the automobile as the vehicle for escape, resulted in three men securing about $5 in money, while that at Economy resulted in a negro securing about $2 in nickles and dimes from the Charles Atkinson grocery and meat market.

Postal inspectors of Cincinnati and Indianapolis, who during the past year have been called to investigate the two post office robberies at Boston, the two at Economy, the three at New Paris, and the one at West Alexandria, were expected to arrive in Greensfork yesterday. They are hopeful of picking up some clue, which was overlooked by the townspeople, and which will result in the rounding up of the gang of robbers, who are thought to be residents of Dayton or Muncie.

Townspeople of Greensfork were awakened about 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning by the report of an explosion, but many thought nothing of it, thinking it the report of a blowout of an automobile tire. A second and third explosion followed, however, according to some residents who, by that time, had a good idea of what was happening.

Postmaster John Ellis, who administers the affairs of the postoffice in connection with his grocery store on the main street of the town, was not awakened until the robbers had left. He lives several squares from the office. An investigation, however, disclosed that the robbers had succeeded in blowing off the outer door of the safe, but not in opening the inner door to the compartment in which several hundred dollars' worth of stamps, and, it is said, a considerable sum of money was placed.

George Fish, who lives across the street from the postoffice, was awakened by the report of the first explosion, and he looked out of his bedroom window. He saw a man standing guard outside the postoffice and he believes there were two others working in the postoffice. His grandson also got up and when at the window made an outcry. Within a few minutes the men left town.

The departure of the robbers is believed to have been in an automobile. A machine was heard running a short distance west of the town at about the time of the departure. The theory is also held that one or more members of the gang also had a horse and buggy with which escape was made, as about the same time the automobile was heard, residents also say they heard a horse and a buggy driven rapidly on the road leading to the north. It is believed that the occupants of the latter vehicle were the local members of the gang, who had spotted the post office for the cracksmen.

Tools, which were used in effecting an entrance to the post office, were stolen from the shops of Beacher McMullen and Allen Cain, and were found in the post office where the burglars had left them. They probably were as valuable as the amount of booty obtained.

At 4 a. m., when Ernest Replogle, a clerk at the Charles Atkinson's grocery and meat market heard a noise in the interior of the store, which led him to believe was made by rats. He struck a match, and in the dim light he saw a negro standing at the cash register.

"Put out that light, or I'll shoot," said the negro, and Mr. Replogle obeyed orders.

The negro finished emptying the till of nickels and dimes, its only contents, and then ran toward the rear end of the store, grabbed up a broom and knocked out a window pane, jumped through the window and disappeared in the darkness. He was described as being a large, raw-boned man.

Entrance was effected by the negro's knocking out a window pane in the rear of the store with a rail. The crash of the falling glass awakened residents, who, fearful that yeggmen were again conducting a robbery of the postoffice, did not make an investigation.

There have been several other petty burglaries in Economy residences and stores recently, and it is not improbable that an all-night marshal will be employed.

Replogle said he had never before seen the negro.

knowledge in that realm of truth. These, in their investigations, reach point where they must give up. Upon this upland of scientific investigations the first Chapter of Genesis meets us. For many years we have been discussing origins, and the Scientist failed to satisfactorily answer 'In the beginning God created the Heavens and the earth.'

"Cicero said, 'We must have some revelation from the creator before we can know our duty or our destiny.' After a lifelong search for immortality the greek philosopher said of death, 'It is a leap in the dark.' Socrates reason of immortality but when he came to die, said, 'I am to depart and you are to remain, which is the better part none but the God can tell.' When Christ arose from the dead He demonstrated immortality and proved that He was divine. When God's final revelation was given to man, the proud philosopher and the little child were placed on the same footing. God knew man's capacity and made the conditions of salvation so simple and plain that a child could understand. In the great commission which Christ gave to his apostles, commanding them to go into all the world and preach the gospel, He said, 'He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved.' Four words indicate man's duty in this commission as recorded by Mark. Faith is acted upon every day and in the commonest affairs of life. It is not only a condition necessary for our living together in society. A child can understand repentance and the new testament and the concordance giving the references where baptism is used will settle its meaning in fifteen minutes. As to the Christian life it is so easily understood that men who have not been inside of a church for twenty years know exactly how a christian ought to live. No man nor set of men can indicate the gospel. No interpreting organism is needed, for every man shall give an account of himself to God."

George Fish, who lives across the street from the postoffice, was awakened by the report of the first explosion, and he looked out of his bedroom window. He saw a man standing guard outside the postoffice and he believes there were two others working in the postoffice. His grandson also got up and when at the window made an outcry. Within a few minutes the men left town.

'WETS' FIGHTING THE 'DRY' WAVE

Dry Leaders Declare That They Would Have Express Wagon Take Place of Saloon

BUILDING STORAGE HOUSES

Shipping Centers Will be Used For States of Colorado and Idaho it is Said.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.) Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Is the express company's little red wheeled wagon to supplant the saloon as the nation's bartender where states have gone dry the wets concentrate their wares and forces in the nearest wet center, says the dries. Wet leaders will not admit it.

On the Pacific Coast Washington and Oregon have gone dry and British Columbia has prohibition as an issue and the wets are moving their plants to California.

"Oregon and Washington will have just as much liquor, but it will be manufactured outside their states," is the wets' belief.

Just a little north of dry Colorado the wets are constructing large warehouses and shipping centers, chief of which is to be Cheyenne, Wyo., Idaho, also dry, likely will be served from there, too.

"Their plan will be a success for a time, perhaps," said E. C. Dinwiddie, national legislative superintendent for the anti-saloon league. "In certain sections they may withstand the dry wave for a while.

"When the Webb-Kenyon bill gets into smooth operation, however; when its constitutionality has been tested everywhere and its loop-holes plugged up, it will be good night for the little red express wagon with the red-eye aboard.

"If the wets want any vehicle at all, they'll have to take the water wagon."

"Facts show," said Hugh F. Harvey, national legislative leader for the wets, that where the saloon goes out, other means of distributing liquor come in. But this nation isn't going dry so fast as you might imagine.

"Many states that go dry have been largely dry for many years under local option. And then perhaps the dries remember a little election up in Minneapolis.

"I wouldn't say quite yet that it's time to hunt up a substitute for the saloon. But at that, the express plan sounds feasible. It probably will serve until the tide turns in the other direction."

Amusements

Joseph E. Howard, who goes the actor-manager one better in that he likewise is the composer of the music for all the plays with which he has been identified, was once asked by an admirer where he turned for inspiration for his tunes of differing theme and character. Mr. Howard, who has achieved a new triumph in his score for "The Girl of Tomorrow" which will be seen in Indianapolis at the Shubert Murat theater, commencing on Tuesday, November 16th, matinee Wednesday and Saturday, with Mr. Howard heading the cast, says it is very simple.

"When I wrote my first score," said Mr. Howard, "I worked hard over it, sitting at the piano for hours at a stretch trying to evolve the melody I wanted. But ever since that time, I have seemingly been able to compose my tunes with little effort; due, I suppose, to the fact that my subconscious mind is forever alert for melodious sounds, and I am always, consciously or unconsciously, seeking, grasping and retaining for future reference combinations of sounds that form the basis of the tunes I write. While it would be impossible for me to trace each melody back to its conception, I am aware of the source of some of my inspirations, and find they sprang from the common, everyday events of life. For instance, one of my most successful songs was the result of a wearisome train ride, when I sat, half-asleep, and listening to the pounding of the car wheels, the sound of the dust and gravel thrown against the car windows of the rushing train, and the whistles and bell-ringing as we dashed through villages. I was not consciously in quest of music—aboard a limited train is scarcely the place to look for melody—yet there suddenly came from the jangle of sounds a well-defined series of notes that ran into a tune and got me to humming it over and over. The ticking of a clock once provided me with an inspiration, and, what might be considered as rather more amusing than correct but which is nevertheless a sincere statement of fact, the clinking of dishes in a Chicago cafe did much toward adding to my reputation as a composer."

Seats for this attraction can be purchased through the Shubert Mura local representatives, Hargrove & Mulin, druggists.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and thickness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

SEAMEN'S LAW IS EXPLAINED

La Follette Act Provides For Many

Things Regarding Welfare of Officers And Crew

BERTHS FOR EACH ON BOAT

When a Sailor Quits he Cannot be

Imprisoned or Forced to Work

Under New Law

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Here is just what the new La Follette Seamen's act provides for owners, sailors and public, with the Commerce department's rulings on certain sections of the law incorporated.

Section 1 compels a ship captain, short-handed during a voyage to fill the vacancies with men of the same or higher rating before proceeding. Section 2 makes 9 hours a day's work in port. Section 3 provides that for every day's delay in collecting his wages, a man gets double pay.

Section 4 provides that in any port a sailor on any ship may collect half his pay or complain to U. S. officers and get full pay and the right to quit.

Section 5 rules that a majority of the common crew may have the ship examined for seaworthiness, or its supplies for quality, by U. S. agents. Section 6 bids goodbye to the forecastle of fiction. There must be a berth for each man in a clean room drained and ventilated and with shower bath. There must be a ship's hospital.

When a sailor quits, says Section 7, he cannot be imprisoned or forced to work. For insubordination he may be placed in irons and for assaulting an officer, imprisoned 2 days.

Section 9 prohibits flogging sailors. If the master of a vessel fails to deliver such an offender, he and the vessel owners are liable for damages. Section 10 gives 2 ounces of butter and 5 quarts of water to each sailor, daily.

Section 11 prohibits sailors assigning wages to employment officers or saloons. Wages can be assigned only to near relatives. Section 12 prohibits garnishment of wages except by courts acting for near relatives.

Section 13 requires 75 per cent of each crew to understand officers' orders; but orders is all they need understand. Forty per cent of the crew must be able seamen. This will gradually rise to 65 per cent. In 1920. An able seaman must have had 3 years service on the seas or great lakes.

Each lifeboat shall be in charge of an able seaman. Ships more than 20 miles from shore must have lifeboats and lifeboats for all, except from May 15 to Sept. 15, when there must be boats and rafts for 70 per cent. On the great lakes, boats for 20 per cent and rafts for 30 per cent are required. Section 15 requires any barge losing a passenger or sailor to report it.

Section 16 and 17 give foreign sailors the right to quit foreign ships in U. S. harbors. All treaties requiring U. S. officers to hunt such deserters are abrogated by Section 8. Section 19 provides that a sailor ill away from home, is to be cared for by a U. S. consul.

BOYS BUSY WITH AUTUMN LABOR

Indiana Corn is Not the Only Crop

That is Being Put in the Bins

These Fall Days.

NUTS ARE BEING STORED AWAY

Big Walnut Yield Keeps Young

America Busy, But Hickory

Nuts and Paw Paws Are Rare.

Indiana corn is not the only crop which has been going into the bins in the last week or more. It is the largest, in the eyes of sedate and elderly people, but it may be said without fear of disproof that the whole corn of the county has not aroused as much enthusiasm as the paw-paw, hickory nut and walnut crops have raised. They are the harvests for the boys.

A stroll through any woods or grove in the vicinity of Rushville now will discover a heap of hulls beneath every walnut tree. Young America has been there with his mallet and his sack. He has carried home a peck, a bushel or perhaps two bushels of walnuts, and an incalculable quantity of stain on his busy young hands. He also has carried home a strong appetite and happy heart, which is taken as the most precious of his cargo.

Hickory nuts are so rare hereabouts that they hardly enter into the boys' autumnal cropping scheme at all. Paw-paws are to be found, but they, too, are rare. The old, reliable walnut, however, is abundant, rich, easily gathered, easily kept, and in all respects the finest wild edible native to this vicinity. These nuts, the market for which is almost a negligible fact here, is, in places, a definite thing. The walnut belt is smaller than many suppose, and in times of peace little Russian, German, Spanish and Italian children receive the common black walnut as quite as great a novelty and a delight as the familiar, thin-shelled English walnut is to the little patrons of Santa Clause in Rush county. The crop of these nuts this year was abundant, and it has been well cared for by the watchful little men of tomorrow. The garnering of this harvest appeals to the meditative side of older minds, and suggest snug firesides and substantial good living during the winter which is drawing near.

IS GRADUATE OF COLUMBIA

Dr. Koo, Chinese Minister to This Country is Remembered by Many Students

ONLY THIRTY YEARS OLD

Said to be a Brilliant Student of International Law—Popular While in College

(By United Press.)

New York, Nov. 11.—Hundreds of young men and women scattered throughout the United States remember their young Columbia University friend, V. K. Wellington Koo. It hasn't been so many months since he graduated with them and went home to China. Should they desire to see Dr. Koo now, they will find him, Minister to the United States, at the Chinese Embassy in Washington.

Dr. Koo is just 30 years old. To him has been entrusted the destiny of China in its relation to the Western world. He has dedicated his life to "save China as a nation from being dismembered and swallowed up in the maelstrom of the European war."

Dr. Koo was popular at Columbia a leader in student activities, editor of the college paper, and active in athletic and literary groups. Dr. Koo has grown a trifle more sedate since his diplomatic duties have been put upon him, say his friends who saw him in New York recently. He is hailed by Prof. John Bassett Moore and other enthusiastic American friends as "a most brilliant student of international law, comparable to the prodigies of a century ago.—William Pitt-Fox and Alexander Hamilton."

Scientists discover the cause of bleeding gums and loose teeth

The old idea that bleeding gums and loose teeth (symptoms of pyorrhea) are due to little pieces of tartar or bone under the gums, has been exploded. Scientists have made the astounding discovery that this disease is caused by a germ which is found in every human mouth.

To meet the need for this treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste.

COAT OF PAINT FOR LIBERTY

Although Art Sharks Object Uncle
Sam Says She Must Have Some Glaring Gold

HER COMPLEXION IS AWFUL

From a Distance She Looks Well,
But The Statue is Beginning to Show Some Age

(By United Press.)
New York, Nov. 11.—Liberty, who has not washed her face nor dolled up in any way since she walked down here into the water to enlighten the world, is being prepared by Uncle Sam's boys for a renewal of her youth.

Lib is more akin to godliness than cleanliness now. No wonder she shows her age. She is constantly wearied by out-of-town folk running up and down inside her. Her gown of green stain, trimmed in soot and old point moss, has blowed her considerably. Her arms need a ton of soapsuds. Her complexion is awful—very bilious and all that. Her toga, or pepus, or whatever the classics call her nightgown, needs a scrubbing brush, much.

From a distance, Lib looks rather well in her green outfit. The art sharks call it "precious avatar of the antique" and object to its being disturbed. But Uncle Sam thinks she ought to have a coat of glaring new gold paint. Lib has no choice between art and governmental orders. She'll get the paint.

BAR STARTS REFORMS

First Meeting in Two Years Was Full of Activity

(By United Press.)
Gary, Ind., Nov. 11.—If the Gary association should meet again soon there is no telling what it will do. After waiting two years to meet the association suddenly held a meeting that seethed with activity. Here are some of the things that were done: The city court was termed a "bull-pen"; objection was made to the fact that city court cases are tried in low tones. Hammond court proceedings were criticized, it being charged that Gary attorneys often lose cases by default because they are not notified of trial dates. War on the shyster attorneys was started and a committee was named to investigate all attorneys in the city to see whether they have been properly admitted to the bar. Reforms have already been made in the city courts.

NURSED ON EVERY FIELD IN EUROPE

Florence Nightingale, The Second,

WAS IN SOUTH AFRICAN WAR

By WILBUR FOREST
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Oct. 15 (By Mail)—Florence Nightingale, the Second, is Nurse Borlase, the woman who knows every British battlefield in Europe. She has nursed in England, France, Serbia and the Dardanelles and is now in London to recuperate before she goes to Russia.

On the close cut, mannish, jacket of this elderly, grey-haired Florence Nightingale there are two South African war medal ribbons; also Belgian, Serbian, British and French medals, won in the present war.

In the South African war, Nurse Borlase was in the Siege of Ladysmith. The first gun of the European struggle found her nursing in Canada from whence she went to Flanders to nurse the Belgian wounded. Later, after a few months in France, news reached her of the sufferings of the Serbians and the ravages of typhus. Without hesitation she went to Serbia and remained until the scourge had passed.

It was after this that the British landed at the Dardanelles and she journeyed to Gallipoli in time to nurse some of the wounded who are now veterans of that campaign. Here Nurse Borlase's health failed and she returned to London. When this is read in America she will be on her way to Russia.

FRENCH COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OFTEN GOES AMONG HIS SOLDIERS INCOGNITO

Tale is Told of How General Joseph
Joffre Ate Snails With Them
And Wasn't Recognized

WANTS INFORMATION RIGHT

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, Oct. 12 (By Mail)—General Jos. Joffre, French commander-in-chief, sometimes lays aside his uniform and goes incognito among his soldiers in the clothes of a citizen.

Joffre wishes first-hand information as to how his men are faring; whether they are satisfied with their lot; if their food is all right and their digestion O. K.

An inhabitant of Rivesaltes, Joffre's birthplace down on the Spanish border, vouches for the truth of the story his son tells in a letter just received.

Fresh from the trenches, the soldier said, he and his two friends were off duty back of the lines. Relatives had sent them 200 snails and these they prepared with Spanish peppers and other strong spices. As they began to eat, a motorcar drew up and stopped. Three or four men in civilian attire got out. One of these came over to the snail-eaters.

"What are you doing there?" the stranger asked.

"Eating snails, as you can see for yourself," one of the soldiers replied in the offhand way soldiers have with "civils," adding: "If you like, you might taste them."

"I won't say no to that!" exclaimed the mysterious visitor. He also "gargled" wine, in a way to make jealous the purest of the Catalans.

"Ah!" he exclaimed. "Where did you get it?"

"From a little place you never heard of," he was told. "From Rivesaltes."

"From Rivesaltes!" the stranger exclaimed. "Do you come from Rivesaltes?" "I do."

"What's your name?" The Rivesaltesian told.

"Your father lives in the third house from the end of the main road entering the village from the south, doesn't he?"

"He does, sir; but how did you know?" the young soldier was greatly surprised. The stranger chuckled. "The first time you write home."

he said, "just tell your mother and father that General Joffre sends them his regards."

The three soldiers sprang to their feet and came to a rigid salute.

WOMEN TO REMAIN NONPARTISAN HERE

Indiana Suffrage League Will Not Take Sides in Order to Get Their Law Enacted

DISAPPROVES OF HECKLING

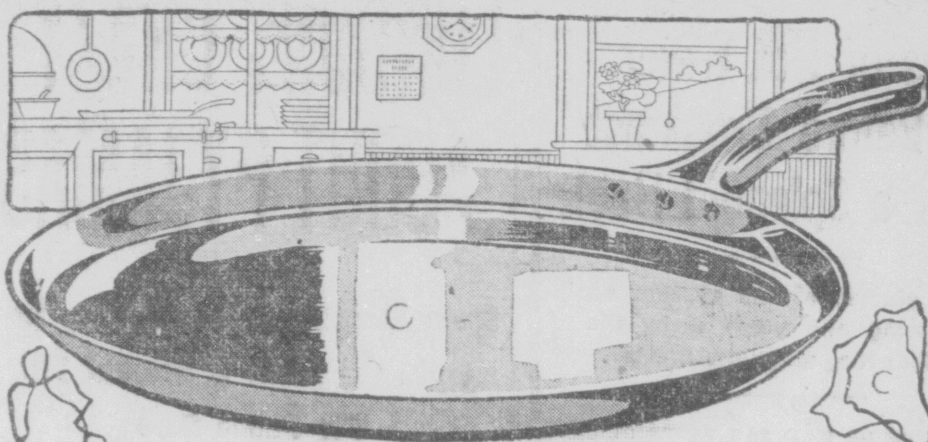

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Nov. 11.—No matter how strenuous becomes the fight for woman suffrage in Indiana, our statesmen need not fear that they may be embarrassed by the women. So long as the Woman's Franchise League of Indiana takes the lead there will be militant methods. Women of the league took pains to enforce this point following a trip through here of the cavalcade of the Women's Congressional union, a rival organization. Members of the league today displayed the rule book of the National American Woman Suffrage association with which the league is affiliated.

Strict non-partisanship is emphasized. This is interpreted as meaning the association does not oppose any political party as such nor any man because he is allied with a certain party. The association believes in state suffrage work as the fundamental means of obtaining suffrage. It disapproves of "heckling and other so called 'militant' activities."

A FEW AT BRAZIL

Brazil, Ind., Nov. 10.—Business is good here especially in the bootlegging. The police here succeeded in taking in one bootlegger a night for the past four Sundays, along with several men with the goods poorly concealed. An imprisonment of 70 days at the penal farm given one of the victims will be enough warning to stop bootlegging in Brazil, it is believed.

At last—a Hot-Air Heating System that everyone can afford!

HERE it is at last—the thing that everyone has been looking for. A heating system that works as thoroughly and satisfactorily as the best small hot-air furnace, yet costs very little more than any ordinary heating stove to buy, no more to install, and much less to operate.

Thousands of people everywhere have already installed it—all over the country people are proclaiming it "The Heating Marvel of the Age."

The diagram shows
how it works

Fresh air (just as with a furnace) is drawn in at the sides, heated evenly to several hundred degrees temperature, and discharged—not through the flue and chimney, but through the top of the hot-air chamber into the room. This creates a thorough circulation of hot air that will successfully heat several rooms. Even the upstairs rooms can be heated by the aid of a simple pipe connection.

Estate Hot Storm

—the Stove with a
"Little Furnace" in it is two heating systems in one—not a stove, not a furnace, but a combination of the best features of both. It sets in the room like a stove, its exterior looks like a stove but there the similarity ends. For its interior is utterly different from any stove you have ever seen—inside it is built like a hot-air furnace.

We want every prospective heating stove purchaser in this locality to inspect the Estate Hot Storm at our store—to give us an opportunity to explain it—before buying a stove of any kind. You owe it to yourself to do this—and to do it soon.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

LONDON "CRAZY" ABOUT PYJAMAS

Since Zeppelin Raids Started, Everyone at Night is Dressed Fit For Public Gaze

"JOFFRE GREY" IS NEW COLOR

Great Demand Also For Bedroom Slippers—These Run Mostly to Turkish Models

By WILBUR S. FORREST

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Oct. 13 (By Mail)—London's night-shirt is a fearful and wonderful garment, and Count Zeppelin is responsible for this "nighty" revolution.

Since the Count's Zeps have been Zepping London, no self respecting Londoner has gone to bed in anything unfit for public gaze.

Tasteful blue and pink pyjamas, masculine and feminine variety, the latter beribboned and frilled, are vogue. They have almost entirely superseded the good old homely unfrilled "nighty." Fancy red, blue or pink slippers to match the gorgeous "nighties" are also most proper, while it is intimated in the best circles that nightcaps not liquid ones—have come back to their very own.

Patent hair curlers have been discarded by the women. No feminine Londoner, says good authority will take the risk of being "zepped" in these, at least, not in the "zepping" season.

London shopkeepers have let the cat out of the bag. While signing a rush order for hundreds of pairs of the latest model pyjamas, the proprietor of a big London store explained:

"No stage hero in his most admired pyjamas scene is better attired today than the average 'bed-room' Londoner. Men's pyjamas are, of course, the plain article, but the feminine ones have gotten into a class of their own."

The October, 1915, model of the "female pyjama" comes in a pink crepe de chine, cut on a more or less mannish angle and frilled at the waist and ankles with delicately tinted silk ribbon. Another popular model composes a one piece suit with a high waist line and a high neck. Fancy buttons adorn this model—for decorative purposes only.

Pink and blue are the prevailing colors, though there is some talk, say the shopkeepers, of introducing a "Joffre grey." It's a more invisible color.

Nightcaps, whose usage had begun to cease, are adding to the splendor of the newest nightdresses. Women so intrepid as to defy Count Zep and attach the patent curlers, find the nightcap a blessed relief. The latest mode takes the form, principally, of the old Neapolitan cap, sewn of thin yet durable enough material to successfully disguise the curlers or "washerwoman's knots."

Whether the Germans know it or not, the demand for bedroom slippers runs to the fancy Turkish model. But so long as no Turkish imports are available and the brand can be made in England, there is no harm in supplying the demand, believe the London shopkeepers.

WAR NEWS OF ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

The great battle of Ypres, which marked a Teutonic check was at its height. Its six thousand Austrians invading Serbia were cut to pieces. Turks took the El-Arish forts.

The Germans took Dixmude and crossed the Yser canal. The Crown Prince assumed supreme command in the East. Russians invaded East Prussia. Premier Asquith predicted an early conclusion of hostilities.

BEGIN IN NEARLY SIXTY COUNTIES

Organizers For Indiana Centennial to be Celebrated in 1916 Begin to Show Activity.

TWO WOMEN ARE LIVE WIRES

John C. Shirk of Brookville Writes of Preparations to Make it Big Occasion There.

Centennial organization has been started in nearly 60 counties of Indiana in which chairmen have been secured. Together these chairmen compose the Grand Committee. They are representative citizens of the state—busy men, already doing things worth while. In the list there are fourteen school men, including county and city superintendents and others, ten attorneys, two judges, five men in general business; five bankers, eight editors, a civil engineer, a manufacturer, a physician, librarian, author, postal clerk, and two or three farmers.

The Grand Centennial Committee so far boasts two women, who promise to be about the liveliest wires of the ninety-two. They are Mrs. R. F. Dooley, Rockville, chairman of Parke county, and Miss Genevieve Williams of Huntingburg, chairman of Dubois. Both already have plans well outlined for next year's celebration in their counties.

The Commission has just issued a timely circular on Pageantry by George Reynolds, head of the History Department of the Evansville high school. It is full of practical suggestions for next year's Centennial pageants, and will gladly be mailed on inquiry to any address.

Chairman John C. Shirk of Franklin county writes: "In 1898 we had a Home-Coming, and again in 1908 we celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of Brookville, and we made a great success of each occasion. We will make the one hundredth anniversary of our state a greater success. * * * We have fixed the first week in June for the celebration. * * * We will have a pageant, an historical exhibit and a Home-coming as features of the celebration."

"Professor Herbert Briggs, head of the Vocational Department of the Public Schools of Terre Haute" is the registry title of the chairman of Vigo. But it doesn't oppress him a particle. He is the very essence of vim, vigor, and vitality, chuck full of enthusiasm. "Some men swear and spit tobacco for diversion," says Briggs, but he says he finds his in chasing down things historical, including his ancestors. Forget his registry data above, but keep your eye on red headed Briggs of "Terry Hat."

WILL THE WAR END THURSDAY

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Nov. 11.—The European war will end Thursday says a postcard from a German soldier in the Vosges. "Germany's last great war was in 1870-1871. Peace was concluded May 10, 1871. Add 1870 to 1871 and you get 3741. Add the first two figures, 3 and 7, and you get 10. Add the last two and you get 5, meaning—10/5/71. "This war has been in 1914-1915. Add 1914 to 1915 and you get 3829. Add the first two figures and you get 11. Add the last two and you get 11, meaning that peace will come on 11/11/15."

LONDON THEATER 'NAMED' BY WOMEN

Stagehands, Scene Shifters And Other Male Workers at Kingway Enlisted in The War

SKIRTS, SKIRTS EVERYWHERE

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Oct. 15 (By Mail)—A theatre owned and operated by women is London's newest wartime feature.

Stagehands, scene shifters and other male workers at the Kingway enlisted one by one until the playhouse closed. It is now reopened by the proprietress, Miss Lena Ashwell and mere man plays no part in its conduct except as an actor or in the audience.

A comely young woman, well known in London stage circles is stage "manager." The limelights are worked by girls who sit aloft amidst the upper scenes, clad in mannish overalls and linen coats. The electric switchboard operator is likewise feminine.

All the scene shifters wear skirts and have always done so. A uniformed female ticket taker stands at the door while the ticket officers are devoid of men. A woman's orchestra furnishes the music under the footlights. There is even a woman press agent.

NEWTON CASEY IS STILL A FUGITIVE

Paroled "Bootlegger" Successfully
Eludes Police After Raid on His Rooms.

SEEN GOING TOWARD MILROY

If he is Ever Captured, Governor
Ralston's Attention Will be Called to Case.

Newton Casey, paroled by Gov. ernor Ralston on a "bootlegging" charge, has successfully eluded the police since the raid yesterday on his rooms over the August Roth pool room in which twenty quarts of whiskey were found in various parts of the place.

That Casey should make an attempt to elude the police is only to be expected as his capture would mean the revoking of his parole by Governor Ralston. The police watched the Casey rooms for many hours yesterday, but he did not put in an appearance. His son, Eddie Casey, believed by the police to be equally guilty with his father, Newton, succeeded in entering the rooms last evening about five o'clock and then made his escape.

Eddie Casey was said to have been in Connorsville yesterday and when he appeared at the rooms, someone warned him that the place had been raided and that the police were looking for him and his father. Eddie Casey turned the key to the place over to John Vanatta, who occupies a room in the same building. Vanatta was told to clean up the Casey apartment. The police did not see Eddie Casey as he appeared at the rooms at a time when it happened that the police were not there.

Today the police succeeded in getting a line on Newton Casey. He was seen between this city and Milroy about two-thirty o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was riding in a buggy with Charles Perkins, it was stated today, although the police had not confirmed the report from Perkins. The police believe Casey went to Milroy and there took a train for the south.

Newton Casey never returned to the rooms after the police raided the place. This is shown by the fact that his clothes and his gold watch were still there this morning when Chief Rosencrance visited the place. The police intended to investigate this afternoon the report that Casey was aided in his effort to escape. The police will not go to any great extremes in obtaining the arrest of Casey, as they believe the city is better off without his presence.

If Casey ever returns, or is captured, the attention of Governor Ralston will be brought to the case, as it is pointed out Casey clearly violated his parole. Judge Sparks let it be known this morning that he would notify the governor in case the man was captured. The court has no jurisdiction over the parole, as that is up to Governor Ralston.

A story in circulation today to the effect that Casey and Mrs. Jessie Clemmons had "broken" and that to get even with him she tipped the Casey place off to the police, was denied by Chief Rosencrance. Casey brought the Clemmons woman here with him last Saturday night and it is understood that they were to be married. The story on the streets was that Casey wanted to put the marriage off a little while and that she quarreled with him because of this.

All of this is denied by the police as furnishing any clew on the raid. The police stated that they were informed that a shipment of four or

BARN NEAR RALEIGH BURNS

Horse, 16 Tons of Hay and Farming Implements Are Consumed.

A barn on the Edgar Herbert farm, northeast of Raleigh, burned last evening about five o'clock, with a loss estimated at $1,500. The origin is unknown. One horse perished in the flames. The barn was a rather large one and contained besides a large number of farming implements, sixteen tons of hay. When discovered the entire barn was in flames and it was impossible to save the horses. The loss was only partially covered by insurance.

JUDGE GIVES BERT NEWMAN A CHANCE

Sentence of Two to Fourteen Years at State Reformatory is Suspended by Court.

PUT ON HIS GOOD BEHAVIOR

Bert Newman, 18 years old, was given a chance today by Judge Sparks to make good his promise of good behavior in the future. Newman was charged with burglary in the second degree and a sentence of from two to fourteen years was suspended by the court.

Young Newman was charged with breaking into the garage of Dr. Will Smith and previously had entered a plea of not guilty with the proviso that he was not "any more guilty than the other boy." This morning when brought into court he changed his plea and asked for mercy of the court. Judge Sparks told the boy what he was expected to do in order to keep out of the reformatory at Jeffersonville. The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Newman, were in court and Judge Sparks told them that they should help the boy keep out of trouble.

HAS 7 BROTHERS WITH THE ALLIES

No One Watches War News More
Closely than Does Rev. D. L.
Milligan.

ONE SHOT DURING BATTLE

No one watches the news from the battle-fronts of the old world more closely than does the Rev. D. L. Milligan, pastor of the Christian church at Arlington. The reason for the Rev. Mr. Milligan's keen interest in the great conflict is that he has seven brothers who are engaged in the war on the side of the allies, four of them in the army and three of them in the navy.

The Arlington pastor was here today attending the Rush County Sunday School Association convention, and told several of his interest in the war. He received news lately that one of his brothers was shot in the back and in the knee but that his injuries were not so serious but that he would recover. Another of his brothers was in the latest great battle on the western front and he is waiting daily for news from that conflict to see if his brother still lives.

R. L. Tompkins Wednesday bought John P. Frazee's interest in the J. D. Case lumber yard which Mr. Tompkins and Mr. Frazee recently purchased from Mr. Case.

BRINGS TOTAL OF CONVERTS TO 13

Three More Additions Wednesday
Night at Revival at Main Street
Christian Church.

BASKET DINNER ON SUNDAY

Question Box is Instituted by the Evangelist—No Services at U. P. Church Tonight.

That interest in the revival being conducted by the Rev. J. H. O. Smith and the Rev. H. H. Saunders at the Main Street Christian church is increasing each night is found in the fact that the crowds grow larger and the additions to the church continue.

Wednesday night there were three additions, bringing the number thus far in the four night meetings up to thirteen. There was a special number on the musical program last night by a mixed quartet and also a solo by the Rev. Mr. Saunders.

A basket dinner will be the feature of the meeting Sunday. Services will be held morning, afternoon and night. It was also announced today that the Rev. Mr. Smith had instituted a question box and that he would answer all questions deposited in it.

On account of the county Sunday school convention being held at the United Presbyterian church today, there will be no service in connection with the revival at that church tonight. The Rev. S. R. Jamieson returned this morning to his home in Oxford, Ohio, but will come back here Friday in time for services Friday evening. He preached last night on the theme, "Weighed and Found Wanting."

Speaking on the theme, "The Hidden and Revealed," Evangelist J. H. O. Smith said last night at the Main Street Christian church:

"From Matt. 11:25; 'I thank thee oh Father, Lord of Heaven and earth, that Thou has hid these things from the wise and prudent and hast revealed them unto babes.' Luke records this thanksgiving of the Saviour upon the return of the seventy who had been sent out to preach the coming kingdom, and with power to heal the sick. They gathered around the Master and reported the happy experience of their mission and the Saviour thanked God that they had learned the happiness there is in helping others."

"Secret things belong unto the Lord our God. Some things we can never know. Some problems we can never solve; too much of the equation is unknown. The finite cannot comprehend the infinite. As the horizon of the known expands the circumference of the unknown enlarges. There are some questions above reason; the how of the incarnation, the why of the crucifixion and the vicarious sacrifice of Christ, the when of the judgment."

"All the realm of science, electricity, astronomy, geology and agricultural belonged to the realm of things that God has neither hidden from us nor revealed to us. God does not do for us what we can do for ourselves. The struggle to discover and apply the forces and resources of our world is necessary to our development. Man has surmounted the enumerable barriers that surrounded him and the conquests has strengthened him as the eagle grows strong in resisting storm. The prowess of man's genius has touched all the harbors of the world. He has wooed and won from the heavens the secret of their silence and science like a phonograph has reproduced the music of the spirit. We are dependent upon scientists and philosophers for our

Judge Sparks Grants Motion For New Trial, Brought by Plaintiff Which Won The Suit

AN UNUSUAL SITUATION

Two Old Cases Which Have Been on Docket Since March, 1912 Are Dismissed Divorce Granted

In granting a motion for a new trial this morning in the case of the International Text Book company against Shock D. Cecil, Judge Sparks held that the verdict of the jury was inconsistent. The suit was brought on a contract on which $68 was demanded. When the case was tried the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $17.50.

The motion for a new trial was filed by the Text Book company, despite the fact that it had won the suit. The company was not satisfied with the verdict. Judge Sparks ruled that the jury should have awarded the plaintiff $68, the amount demanded, or nothing.

Old cases on the docket continue to be taken off. Two that have been there since March, 1912 were removed this morning by dismissal. These cases were those of John W. Wainwright against the P. H. and F. M. Roots Company et al., of Connorsville. One was for mandate and the other was an injunction suit. Both cases were sent here on a change of venue. The motion for dismissal in both cases was filed by the plaintiff.

The case of Walter E. Smith against Bert Osborn to foreclose a mortgage was dismissed and the costs paid. The case of Edith E. Smith against Ray Carpenter was also dismissed and the costs paid. It was also a case to foreclose a mortgage.

Mrs. Mary I. Doyle was granted a divorce from William Doyle by Judge Sparks upon payment of the costs. She was also given the custody of their child. Mrs. Doyle alleged cruel and inhuman treatment and failure to provide. He did not appear against her and his present whereabouts are unknown to her.

In the revised court calendar as prepared by Judge Sparks there will be no jury cases until the second week of the November term. The term will open next Monday as provided by law, but is likely that the first week will be very quiet. The new calendar is as follows:

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 11.—Carl A. Mote was actively engaged during the recent legislature drawing up various primary bills. He drew up the bill that Representative Jones first submitted to the house.

HOG SERUM PLANT TO BE BUILT HERE

Option on 70 Acres of Land South of Here Secured by Company
Incorporated for $100,000.

WORK TO BE STARTED AT ONCE

An option on seventy acres of land on the old Joe Caldwell farm, south of Rushville, where it is intended to manufacture hog serum on a commercial scale, has been secured by the National Serum company. The National Serum company is now engaged in selling stock, and it was stated here today that Rushville would get this new industry regardless of whether a cent's worth of stock was sold in this county.

The company is incorporated for $100,000 and it is hoped to start the manufacture of the serum here within sixty or ninety days. The company is backed by veterinarians and hog breeders all over the state. Rush county was selected for the plant because it is the largest hog raising county in the state, and one of the largest in the United States. The serum will be sold direct to the farmers. The incorporators are Dr. J. J. Heron, Tipton; O. E. Anthony, Indianapolis; John L. McFarland, Indianapolis; Dr. A. L. Marvel, Owensville; Dr. H. A. Sailor, Wabash; Dr. L. E. Conoway, Swayzee; Dr. C. E. Powers, Attica; Dr. H. F. Huntington, New Palestine; Dr. Rice, Rockville, and Dr. Lett, of Columbus.

CYCLONE CUTS SWATH IN WEST

Death and Destruction Follow in Path of 20-Mile-Wide Hurricane in 4 States.

DEATH TOLL MAY REACH 60

Wire Communications Are Paralyzed and Reports of Destruction Can't be Confirmed

(By United Press.)

Kansas City, Nov. 11.—Six middlewest states were hit by the tornado which apparently started south of Great Bend, Kas., shortly after nightfall last night and continued all night.

Many known dead, hundreds injured, and many million dollars worth of damage to buildings, live stock and crops was today's estimate of the storm's toll based on reports reaching here on still shaky telephone and telegraph wires.

Four were killed and sixty injured under falling buildings at Great Bend where the storm struck hardest.
Three were killed at Zeya, Kansas, and several injured. One man was killed and several injured when a freight car was blown over at Derby.

Several persons were injured at Hartford, S. D. One man was killed at Hoopston, Ill., when the wind blew down a factory. Several places in Nebraska and Iowa reported heavy damage by rain and wind. At Marshfield, Wis., buildings were blown down, live stock killed and many structures unroofed.

Death and destruction followed in the twenty-mile-wide path left by the cyclone which swept Central Kansas last night and early today.
Wire communications are completely paralyzed in some sections and reports that loss of life may reach anywhere from 15 to 60 could not be confirmed. It was believed this estimate was high.

The storm area extended from southern Kansas to as far north as the vicinity of Sioux Falls, S. D., where a tornado struck the town of Hartford, wrecked the electric light plant and injured four persons.

Messages reaching the Missouri Pacific Railroad offices said that the scope of the Kansas tornado was an area at least sixteen miles wide. The messages added that several houses in Claffin, Kas., fourteen miles from Hoisington, were demolished.

Many buildings at Hoisington were swept into a heap of debris. The storm passed over the south part of the town, wrecking the water works and electric light plant. The town is in darkness and confusion reigns.

According to reports which reached the long-distance telephone office here before wire communication was broken off, the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway station was demolished and half the houses of the city were wrecked. Three large flour mills and a number of grain elevators were in the path of the storm.

Nearly every house in Great Bend,
it is reported, has been blown down.
Hundreds of persons are believed to have been injured. All wire communication failed after the first brief bulletins were received here over the telephone wire from the Great Bend telephone operator.

Early reports said that Fremont,
Neb., had been wiped out, but it was learned later that only a light rain fell there.

Meager telephone reports from the vicinity of Great Bend say a school house lying in the path of the storm, was demolished. Fires broke out in many homes, but the heavy deluge of rain which followed extinguished them in many cases.

At Pratt, south of Great Bend, four and one-half inches of rain is reported to have fallen.

NIGHT MEETING TO CLOSE CONVENTION

New and Effective Organization For Sunday School Association Planned This Afternoon.

STATE SECRETARY, SPEAKER

The annual convention of the Rush County Sunday school association, which was in session at the United Presbyterian church today, will close with a meeting tonight at 7:30, which will be addressed by Geo. N. Burnie, of Indianapolis, secretary of the state association, on the topic, "The Sunday School Seed."

There were only thirty persons in attendance this morning, but the majority of them were delegates. Most of the Sunday schools from outside the city were represented by the ministers of the church. It was expected that the attendance would be much larger this afternoon and tonight. The chief address by Mr. Burnie this morning was on the subject, "Graduation—Why?" and this afternoon his topic was, "Knit to Fit." This morning reports of the schools were heard and each representative present was asked to tell the two best things their school has now or expect to have. An open discussion on how attendance may be increased was conducted this afternoon.

County Sunday school work has been rather disorganized for the last two or three years and an effort was being made this afternoon to reorganize the work and elect an efficient set of officers.

CRIMINAL CASE DISMISSED

Suit Against Utsler of Near Milroy Off Docket.

The criminal case against Orville Utsler of near Milroy, charged with administering drugs to the wife of Harry Dawson of near Glenwood, for a criminal purpose, was dismissed today in circuit court. Mrs. Dawson was formerly Miss Florence McElfresh. The Utsler boy's father agreed to take the child involved in the case, and as this was satisfactory to Dawson, the prosecuting witness, the case was dismissed.

SAY LINER FLED FROM THE U-BOAT

Dispatches Reaching Rome Declare Ancona Did Not Hove to Until She Was Overhauled

ABOUT 176 PERSONS DIED

Surviving Officers of Italian Liner Say She Was Halted as Soon as She Was Signaled.

(By United Press.) Rome, Nov. 11.—Whether the Italian liner Ancona's passengers were slaughtered by shell fire while the liner was fleeing from the submarine or were mowed down by shrapnel after she had been brought to a halt had not been absolutely settled today.

Fresh messages containing stories of survivors frittered in today but they were contradictory. A Tunis dispatch quoted the Ancona's surviving officers as declaring the vessel hove to as soon as the submarine commanded her to halt. Other dispatches carried description of the chase as the fifteen knot liner attempted to outdistance the swift submersible.

All reports agreed that the submarine's shrapnel shells took a bloody toll on the women and children who crowded, terror-stricken, to the deck. The latest dispatches left the loss of life in doubt because of the large discrepancies in reports of the number aboard. The reports agreed that 300 or more were saved. Reports of Americans aboard varied much.

That the Italian liner Ancona fled from the Austrian submarine that attacked her while her wireless sent out calls for help, was reported in the majority of dispatches that reached here today.

One or two correspondents sent word that the Ancona halted immediately when challenged by the submarine and was then struck before her passengers could escape. But most reports agreed that the liner took flight and only hove to when the submarine overhauled her and poured shrapnel upon her deck.

Reports today indicated that about 176 persons perished.

Only eleven Americans were aboard the Ancona, the Societa Italia states today. Mrs. Cecile Greil was the only native born American citizen, it was stated. The others were ten Italians who had become naturalized American citizens.

CHARGE THAT CREW ACTED INHUMANLY

Survivors of Italian Liner Ancona Say Submarine Fired on Life Boats Afloat

BATTLE FOR LIFE ON VESSEL

(By United Press.) Malta, Nov. 11.—Scenes of wild panic preceded the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona. Men fought over blood-spattered decks for places in the life boats. Shrieking, terror-stricken women leaped into the sea, some with children in their arms. Passengers badly wounded by the submarine's shrapnel and unable to move went down with the steamer. These were the stories of passengers and members of the crew, brought here today. Possibly all the forty-five survivors landed at Malta were Italians. They accused the Austrian submarine crew of inhuman action and declared they fired deliberately on women and children in the life boats.

IS AFTERMATH OF RECENT TROUBLE

Emma Moore Brings Suit For Divorce From William Moore Following Connersville Quarrel.

FINALLY SEPARATED MONDAY

As an aftermath of the fight Monday in Connersville, Mrs. Emma Moore today filed suit for divorce from William (Sorrel) Moore, demanding the custody of their two minor children and $1,000 alimony. Moore paid a fine in Connersville for beating his wife and this is the date given in the complaint as the day the final separation resulted.

Mrs. Moore alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and alleges that he is a constant user to excess of intoxicating liquor. She maintains that when in this condition he treats her violently and abuses both her and their children. Mrs. Moore alleges that he frequently cursed her and on their final separation threatened to kill her, drawing a razor on her. According to the complaint they were married July 28, 1892. Chauncey Duncan represents Mrs. Moore.

WILL SUSTAIN BOARD'S ACTION

District Convention of Women's Franchise League Concurs Boards Resolution.

REMOVING MRS. S. C. STIMSON

(By United Press.) Huntington, Ind., Nov. 11.—Following a speech by Dr. Amelia Keller in which she accused Mrs. S. C. Stimson of disloyalty to the Women's Franchise League of Indiana the district convention today voted to support the action of the state board in asking Mrs. Stimson to withdraw as a member.

Dr. Keller is president of the state organization. She declared that the proposition of "church" had nothing to do with the Terre Haute Woman's case.

"You ought to know why the action was taken," she said.

It is understood that the opposition to Mrs. Stimson was aroused by the fact that she supported Mrs. Clarke Fairbanks of Fort Wayne for presidency of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Fairbanks was opposed by the Franchise League.

ALL BUT ONE PLEAD GUILTY

Two Youths in New Salem Affair Change Plea and Are Fined.

All but one of the boys that disturbed the social at the New Salem school last week have pleaded guilty and the one boy, Stanley Stewart, was having a hearing this afternoon before Squire Kratzer. Garrett Ricketts and Harry Bever appeared before the court and changed their pleas. Ricketts was fined a total of $28.50 on the two charges, of carrying concealed weapons and disturbing a public meeting and Bever was fined $5 and costs for disturbing the meeting. The other charge against Bever was dismissed. Fines were assessed against two other boys implicated in the affair last week.

Amusements

The Princess offers a three act drama "The Whirlpool" for the program tonight. Nell Craig and Warda Howard are featured. It is a society drama and is said to contain many beautiful scenes. Tomorrow night the big feature "Vanity Fair" will be shown.

That colossal film masterpiece, "Vanity Fair" with Mrs. Fiske in the role of Becky Sharp, comes to the Princess theatre Friday, matinee and night. This is a production and easily the greatest ever executed by that well known maker of good pictures. Also, it is conspicuous as the first Edison offering on the newly organized Kleine-Edison Feature Service program.

Needless to say a production of

sufficient size to warrant the engagement of Mrs. Fiske is no ordinary film venture. More than four hundred people were employed in many of the big scenes, notably the one which portrays Lady Richardson's ball in Brussels. This scene is in itself elaborate enough to stamp "Vanity Fair" an extraordinary production. The antique curio shops of Manhattan were ransacked for hanging and furniture of the period and the entire mammoth floor of the Edison studio was utilized.

In filming the great classic, the Edison producer made no effort to follow the devious plot of Thackeray's novel. The bare outline with the principal characters of the drama are enough to charge seven reels of film with snap and action. It is one of the genuine film masterpieces of the last two years and will undoubtedly prove immensely popular.

The Gem will show a three reel feature "The Surrender" for the program tonight. Marie Walcamp is featured and it tells a love story of the factory district. A rescue from the white slavers is one of the thrilling scenes. Tomorrow Cleo Madison will be seen in the drama "The Pine's Revenge." The four part spectacular race drama "The Suburban" will be shown Saturday.

More Reflection

"Duty-free imports comprised 71.6 per cent of the total imports for September, 1915, and 61 per cent of those of September, 1914. Their increased percentage this year reflects the marked growth in imports of factory materials, mostly on the free list." This is quoted from the advance statement of our September trade, issued by the Department of Commerce.

A great many other things are reflected in that paragraph. It also reflects the marked growth in imports of meat and dairy products, farm products generally, fish, etc., which are coming in free of duty. But it does not reflect any decrease in the cost of living. The reason why the average rate of duty on all imports for the past year hovers between 11 and 12 per cent is reflected therein, which, in turn reflects the reason for the fat deficit in the Treasury. It reflects the reason why the Administration would like to file Republican plumage and restore sugar, wool, and other articles, to Republican rates, with the declaration that it is "primarily for revenue, with incidental protection," and this sudden conversion reflects the approach of campaign year. It reflects so much that it gives good cause for reflection, and that is exactly what the American people are doing today. The result of that reflection will find Uncle Sam, in 1917, ready for the gong to sound which announces the beginning of the battle royal for commercial supremacy that is scheduled to take place with the cessation of war. It means the return of the Federal Government to a sound business basis, and that means restoration of the Republicans to power. You can't stop 'em.

"Not Expedient"

At last the long-promised note on Great Britain's commercial warfare against America, which has been waiting for more than three months, like a ship stuck on the ways, is reported to be on its way to London. But meanwhile new orders in council have been issued still further flouting America's rights on the high seas. England finds it "not expedient" to admit that the American flag exempts a ship from confiscation!

One of the pro-Ally papers, objects to "foreign influences" within the United States. To this all Americans must agree, and the rule should be applied to those foreign influences that up hold the hampering of American commerce on the high seas as well as to those foreign influences that deal in contrivances to cripple ships sailing hence with supplies for the Allies. Americans have a right to be indignantly intolerant of all such interferences with our lawful rights, whether the outrage is committed here or on the high seas.

The American Industrial Education Exposition is the high-sounding name of a show which recently held Madison Square Garden for a week. That it lived up to its name, however, and was there with the goods is shown by this extract from a newspaper report of the affair: "The most daring feature of the show is a chart, in the booth which advocates character-analysis by reading the face, illustrated by a picture of the President of the United States, and saying that Woodrow Wilson's greatest fault is procrastination."

A gossip is a person who makes a big something out of a little nothing.

And now some cuss remarks that courtship is a preface to hardship.

Bryan's Attack.

(Cincinnati Enquirer.)

The attack of Bryan upon President Wilson's address at the Manhattan Club, New York, in which the President announced his policy of preparing for the country's defense emphasizes the differences in the opinions of the present and those of the ex-leader of the Democratic party.

That such differences existed was demonstrated and acknowledged by the resignation of Mr. Bryan as Secretary of State. To those familiar with Mr. Bryan's persistent adherence to theories, original or adopted, his constancy in unsuccessful efforts to make conditions to fit his theories rather than to follow that course of practical and successful statesmanship which strives for the very best attainable results, this attack was not unexpected.

The Mexican policy of the Administration, a policy that this country and Mexico has suffered from since the very advent of the Administration, and from which the Administration suffered at the elections of November, 1914, and 1915, can be properly termed Mr. Bryan's, and it is an example, not only of the absurdity of theories in face of conditions to which they do not apply, but of the serious and grave injuries that such impracticable and deplorable official actions reflect upon the people subject to the results of the malpractice.

Mr. Bryan's resignation as Secretary of State invoked no expression of regret from the American people, as the vast majority desired a radical change from the failure of the Administration to protect American citizens upon the land and upon the sea. Whether they were or were not correct in the thought, they believed that Mr. Bryan was so wedded to his theories of non-defense of these rights by force that continued humiliation would be the lot of the nation if he remained in that office.

The President now has to bear the burden of Mr. Bryan's failures in the State Department while at his head and of the attacks upon policies which Mr. Bryan now finds fault with, but his two years of work in that department and the public estimate of that work have so weakened Mr. Bryan's hold upon the electorate of the country, reduced the public's valuation of him as a practical statesman, that his recent declaration of hostility to the President's policy of preparedness will have but minor effect.

At this time it is obvious that Mr. Bryan's record in the State Department is, and will be a source of weakness to the Administration, and it is equally obvious that Mr. Bryan, outside of the Cabinet, is so frank and outspoken an opponent, so keen a critic and so ready to assail what he deems to be its mistakes, errors and shortcomings that he cannot longer be useful to the Administration in a political way, even if he desired to be.

The Administration is now bound to make this effort for preparedness for defense. The great majority of the people are with the President in this policy, and they give it their full approval.

As the leader of his party President Wilson will undoubtedly be given the party support, but Mr. Bryan will be found equally as determined to defeat the President's efforts to safeguard the country through enlarging the army and increasing the power of the navy.

That Mr. Bryan may be sincere in his theory does not diminish its folly. That in opposing preparedness he is consistent with himself adds nothing to the soundness of his position and should not be accepted as a certificate of the wisdom of his proposition.

To sum up the situation, the country is with the President for defense and rejects Mr. Bryan's views upon the subject.

Wilson's Influence.

(Columbus Republican.)

It is rather significant of the popular sentiment that Walsh, former governor of Massachusetts, running for re-election on the democratic ticket, refused to enter into a discussion of national issues, and was defeated. He attempted to "run on his own hook," and all the people turned him down, of course by a slight majority. The people today want to know where a candidate stands in regard to Wilson. They have faith in Wilson.—Rushville Jacksonian.

Yes, they have, with a vengeance. Take New Jersey, the President's home state, for instance. Prior to the recent suffrage election in that state, Mr. Wilson, with a great flourish of trumpets, announced his conversion to the "votes for women" cause and the further fact of his intention to support it at the ensuing election—not as a democrat, not as a partisan, but as a private citizen, thus giving his personal popularity full sway, and the result, as is known, was the overwhelming defeat of the women's cause, not, perhaps, because of the President's spectacular support, but in spite of it. This shows the quality of the faith the people have in Mr. Wilson. Then, again, on November 2, a state election was held in New Jersey—the membership of the Legislature was to be elected, this body to in turn elect some of the state officers. The President considered the matter of such importance that he hustled home to cast his vote for democracy—not, perhaps, with so much clamor as he announced his intention relative to the suffrage election—and what was the result? The state went republican by a substantial majority; the Legislature elected is republican surely and safely and will fill such of the state offices as necessary with Republicans. Had Mr. Wilson made as much noise about his intention to vote for democracy and free trade in the latest Jersey election, the people's faith in him would have been expressed in a minority so infinitesimal as to be just about invisible. If Mr. Wilson is the best the democracy has to put up for the presidency next fall what the reunited republicans will do for that party and its presidential ticket will be amply sufficient.

Do You Feel Head- achy? Look to Your Stomach

It is an unusual thing for a druggist to sell medicine under a guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. Yet this is the way Johnson's Drug Store, the popular druggist, are selling Mi-o-na, the standard dyspepsia remedy.

Never before have they had so large a number of customers tell them that a medicine has been successful as with Mi-o-na. People who a few months ago looked like walking skeletons have put on flesh and today are ruddy and vigorous with perfect digestion and good health.

There is no longer any need for anyone suffering or making their friends suffer on account of dyspepsia. Mi-o-na can always be relied upon. The percentage of cures is so great that there is little risk to Johnson's Drug store in guaranteeing to return the money if the medicine does not relieve. And they stand ready to do so without any questions.

Headaches, all forms of indigestion, specks before the eyes, dizzy feelings, and all forms of liver trouble are helped by Mi-o-na. A few days' treatment should show considerable gain in health while a complete cure often follows rapidly.

ROMANCE BACK OF JAIL PLOT

Miss Nellie Seals of Indianapolis
Alleged to Have Obtained Tools
For Prisoners.

DELIVERY IS FRUSTRATED

Just as Advertised, Sheriff's Deputies
Pounce on Men at Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 11.—Sheriff John D. Miller's jail delivery for which he and several armed guards had been waiting patiently for two days and two nights, took place "as advertised" at 10:30 last night. When William Morris, leader of the plotters, including an alleged murderer, crawled through the fourteen-inch tunnel in the steel and brick wall of the county jail, the sheriff's outside watchers, with weapons drawn, rushed upon him in true "movie" style. Officers in the jail bore down upon the inner end of the hole and caught four other prisoners awaiting their turns to escape.

All of them admitted their part in the plot. Only one man in the jail, who was writing a letter in his cell, denied complicity.

Sheriff Miller declares that the plot was the result of the love of Miss Nellie Seals, 18 years old, of Indianapolis, for Charles Lawson, 23 years old, of Lafayette, who is awaiting trial for the murder of Nightwatchman August Scallon at Delphi. The girl is held as a witness in the case of her stepfather, Albert St. Claire, charged with forgery.

She is said to have obtained the tools used by the jail-breakers when she went to Lafayette last Friday in company with an attorney to seek evidence in defense of her father. With money given her by the lawyer, C. D. Layman, for her dinner, she is supposed to have bought a saw and chisel. The girl denies any knowledge of the plot. She and her mother were locked upstairs in jail when the break was made.

The work of cutting through the steel plate and brick wall of the jail had been going on for three days. The prisoners cut around a patch placed on the plate after five prisoners cut through it and escaped October 10, 1911.

An improvised dictaphone connecting the jail wall and a garage in which some of the waiting officers were hidden kept the sheriff informed of the progress of the work.

The prisoners were in ignorance of the betrayal of their plans by two alleged horse thieves removed from the jail a few days ago to be returned to Michigan.

The hole is 16 inches square and fourteen inches long. A circular saw, a hack saw made from a case-knife, a chisel and several pieces of an iron bar, with which the work had been done, were found in the jail when the plot was balked.

The men involved in the plot are William Morris, Lachean, Quebec, and Frank Collins, Cedar Rapids, Ia., charged with robbing a clover Leaf merchandising car; Charles Lawson, Lafayette, charged with murder, and Vance Lawson and Oscar Lawson, witnesses in the murder. Albert St. Claire, who was returned here from Lafayette to be tried Nov. 17 for forgery asserted he was sick and did not care to escape.

Morris and Collins will be charged with jailbreaking, but if evidence is found to support the charge of robbing a railroad car in interstate traffic they will be surrendered to the Federal authorities. The additional charge of jailbreaking will not be placed against the other prisoners. Morris and Collins were arrested Nov. 4, both of them being attired in new suits of clothing.

Mrs. St. Claire and her daughter, the Seals girl, are held as witnesses against St. Claire, but they both are wanted at Logansport for alleged forgery. They probably will be surrendered to the Cass county sheriff after St. Claire's trial here.

Sheriff Miller was assisted in his vigil by Deputy Sheriff John W. Pence, Chief of Police Walter D. Corns, Patrolmen Fryback, Hill

BREAK UP BRONCHIAL COUGHS; CROUP AND COLDS PROMPTLY

Make the Best Remedy at Home— 128 Teaspoonful For 50 Cents.

Don't neglect your first cold, cough or any Bronchial affection, this fall, but commence treatment immediately, and through using the proper medicine, it can be checked from the very start and promptly cured, but if neglected probably will hang on all winter; if it does not develop into something more serious, such as Pneumonia or consumption. True, there are hundreds, yes thousands of cough remedies on the market. While some are good, there are many which are not, but are positively harmful, due to the narcotics which they contain. But why experiment with these different remedies purely on the strength perhaps of some testimonials or on the exaggerated claims of manufacturers, when Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectorant is sold by Fox Bros. on such a positive guarantee to give perfect satisfaction, yes even more—money will be refunded by

Cretchfield, Douglass and McDonald and several newspaper men.

Frankfort citizens had displayed great interest in the show, but Sheriff Miller sold no tickets and there were no passes. The police kept the public away from the jail yard. The citizens had to be content with a debate on the subject, "Should the sheriff have seized the conspirators instead of allowing them to complete the tunnel?" Miller's friends argued that, since the steel plate had been cut before he discovered the plot and it would be necessary to tear out the brick wall to make repairs, it was well to allow the prisoners to do the work without expense to the county. The "antis" contended that he was taking unnecessary risk of losing the prisoners. The debate was a draw.

MORTON'S BAR SPEECH

The October election in Indiana was followed by the national election in November, resulting in the election of Lincoln to the presidency. South Carolina headed the procession of the Southern states from the union. All was doubt, uncertainty and confusion as to what should be done. Should the South be "coerced" or permitted to withdraw peaceably? The Indianapolis Journal along with Greeley counseled the latter course. The Man of the Hour appeared in the famous war speech at the courthouse at the capital in which he pointed out the unerring logic, the course which the new administration was to adopt.

GREENSBURG BOY WINS CONTEST

Gordon Cleveinger Awarded First
For Prize Essay on Fire Prevention by Fire Marshal.

EVANSVILLE YOUTH SECOND

Power to Enforce State Officer's Orders Invoked When Newcastle Buildings Are Torn Down.

First prize in the Fire Prevention Essay Contest held recently by the State Fire Marshal, has been awarded to Gordon Cleveinger, a student in the Greensburg High School, second prize going to Herman Blatt of the Evansville High school. First place pays the winner $15, second receiving $10. The judges gave honorable mention to the manuscripts written by Miss Nell McCarty, Ft. Branch High School and Miss Uzekia Monroe, Warren High school. Essays receiving special consideration were submitted by Paul G. Brewster, Oakland City; F. Edwin Purple, Hagerstown, and David Lilienthal, Michigan City.

The judges in the contest were chosen from the Fire Marshal Department and from the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The purpose of the contest to stimulate interest among the high school students in Fire Prevention, was accomplished. The State library received numerous requests for material published on Fire Prevention and the high school principals rendered material aid in making the contest a success.

Tears Down Building.

Power to enforce his orders by tearing down dilapidated buildings on the failure of owners to comply with tear-down orders was invoked by the Fire Marshal recently for the first time in Newcastle when his operatives removed a group of old dilapidated buildings belonging to Martin Dolan, situated on Broad street and the L. E. & W. Railroad. Following the issuance of the order by the Fire Marshal, the owner appealed to the Henry County Circuit Court for a review of the order which directed him to tear down his buildings. The court affirmed the order of the Fire Marshal on appeal and fixed the date for compliance as April 24, 1915. The owner having failed to comply with the order as affirmed by the Court on that date, his buildings were razed by the Department. The Indiana statutes provide that the expense of such removal shall be charged to the owner. His failure to pay the costs within thirty days results in adding a penalty of 25 per cent to the costs. The entire amount is then placed on the tax duplicate and collected as taxes, becoming a lien on the real estate on which the buildings stood.

High School Five Defeats Red Men's Quintet, 34 to 17.

In the first practice game of the season the high school five last night defeated the Red Men's Athletic team 34 to 17. The game was played in the new gymnasium at the Graham Annex and was considered fast for a starter. Coach Burns gave all of his men a chance to get in the game and the contest was good practice for the boys. For a time the Red Men put up a good game and held the score down, but the practice and training of the high school team soon showed and the score was doubled by the time the game ended.

DR. J.W. WHITE DIES AT KNIGHTSTOWN

Pioneer Dentist and Prominent Resident Expires Following Illness With Intestinal Trouble.

FUNERAL SET FOR THURSDAY

Knightstown, Ind., Nov. 11.—The funeral services of Dr. J. W. White, age eighty-two years, pioneer dentist and one of the pioneer residents of this place, whose death occurred Tuesday, was held at the late residence here this afternoon at two-thirty o'clock. Interment took place in the Knightstown cemetery.

His death followed a serious illness of one week from intestinal trouble. He had been in poor health for some time, but for several months had seemingly regained his health.

Dr. White was born in Lebanon, O., June 27, 1833, the eldest son of Levi and Sarah White. He came to Knightstown while a young man and had been a practicing dentist in Knightstown for sixty-four years, but the past four or five years has been practically retired because of ill health. He was married Nov. 24, 1856, to Harriet Edwards, who survives him. He is also survived by three sons, John Omer of Indianapolis, Erie T. of Omaha, Neb., and Dr. Morris L. of Indianapolis and two daughters, Mrs. Leora Hill of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Carrie Gregory of Knightstown.

Dr. White was a charter member of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, a prominent Mason, staunch worker in the Knightstown M. E. church, and a prominent member of the Henry County Historical society.

YEGGS AGAIN IN WAYNE COUNTY

Loot Greensfork Postoffice and Burglarize Store at Economy all in One Night.

USE AN AUTO TO MAKE ESCAPE

Ninth Robbery of Federal Offices in County in Year Arouse People to Renewed Search.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 11.—A post-office robbery at Greensfork—the first there but the ninth in this community within a year—and a burglary of a store at Economy, were the crime developments in the county during the early morning Wednesday.

The robbery of the postoffice, which marked the advent of the automobile as the vehicle for escape, resulted in three men securing about $5 in money, while that at Economy resulted in a negro securing about $2 in nickles and dimes from the Charles Atkinson grocery and meat market.

Postal inspectors of Cincinnati and Indianapolis, who during the past year have been called to investigate the two post office robberies at Boston, the two at Economy, the three at New Paris, and the one at West Alexandria, were expected to arrive in Greensfork yesterday. They are hopeful of picking up some clue, which was overlooked by the townspeople, and which will result in the rounding up of the gang of robbers, who are thought to be residents of Dayton or Muncie.

Townpeople of Greensfork were awakened about 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning by the report of an explosion, but many thought nothing of it, thinking it the report of a blowout of an automobile tire. A second and third explosion followed, however, according to some residents, who, by that time, had a good idea of what was happening.

Postmaster John Ellis, who administers the affairs of the postoffice in connection with his grocery store on the main street of the town, was not awakened until the robbers had left. He lives several squares from the office. An investigation, however, disclosed that the robbers had succeeded in blowing off the outer door of the safe, but not in opening the inner door to the compartment in which several hundred dollars' worth of stamps, and, it is said, a considerable sum of money was placed.

George Fish, who lives across the street from the postoffice, was awakened by the report of the first explosion, and he looked out of his bedroom window. He saw a man standing guard outside the postoffice and he believes there were two others working in the postoffice. His grandson also got up and when at the window made an outcry. Within a few minutes the men left town.

The departure of the robbers is believed to have been in an automobile. A machine was heard running a short distance west of the town at about the time of the departure. The theory is also held that one or more members of the gang also had a horse and buggy with which escape was made, as about the same time the automobile was heard, residents also say they heard a horse and a buggy driven rapidly on the road leading to the north. It is believed that the occupants of the latter vehicle were the local members of the gang, who had spotted the post office for the cracksmen.

Tools, which were used in effecting an entrance to the post office, were stolen from the shops of Beacher McMullen and Allen Cain, and were found in the post office where the burglars had left them. They probably were as valuable as the amount of booty obtained.

At 4 a. m., when Ernest Replöge, a clerk at the Charles Atkinson's grocery and meat market heard a noise in the interior of the store, which led him to believe was made by rats. He struck a match, and in the dim light he saw a negro standing at the cash register.
"Put out that light, or I'll shoot," said the negro, and Mr. Replöge obeyed orders.

The negro finished emptying the till of nickles and dimes, its only contents, and then ran toward the rear end of the store, grabbed up a broom and knocked out a window pane, jumped through the window and disappeared in the darkness. He was described as being a large, raw-boned man.

Entrance was effected by the negro's knocking out a window pane in the rear of the store with a rail. The crash of the falling glass awakened residents, who, fearful that yeggs were again conducting a robbery of the postoffice, did not make an investigation.

There have been several other petty burglaries in Economy residences and stores recently, and it is not improbable that an all-night marshal will be employed.

Replöge said he had never before seen the negro.

knowledge in that realm of truth. These, in their investigations, reach point where they must give up. Upon this upland of scientific investigations the first Chapter of Genesis meets us. For many years we have been discussing origins, and the Scientist failed to satisfactorily answer 'In the beginning God created the Heavens and the earth.'

"Cicero said, 'We must have some revelation from the creator before we can know our duty or our destiny.' After a lifelong search for immortality the greek philosopher said of death, 'It is a leap in the dark.' Socrates reason of immortality but when he came to die, said, 'I am to depart and you are to remain, which is the better part none but the God can tell.' When Christ arose from the dead He demonstrated immortality and proved that He was divine. When God's final revelation was given to man, the proud philosopher and the little child were placed on the same footing. God knew man's capacity and made the conditions of salvation so simple and plain that a child could understand. In the great commission which Christ gave to his apostles, commanding them to go into all the world and preach the gospel, He said, 'He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved.' Four words indicate man's duty in this commission as recorded by Mark. Faith is acted upon every day and in the commonest affairs of life. It is not only a condition of salvation, but it is a condition necessary for our living together in society. A child can understand repentance and the new testament and the concordance giving the references where baptism is used will settle its meaning in fifteen minutes. As to the Christian life it is so easily understood that men who have not been inside of a church for twenty years know exactly how a christian ought to live. No man nor set of men can indicate the gospel. No interpreting organism is needed, for every man shall give an account of himself to God."

George Fish, who lives across the street from the postoffice, was awakened by the report of the first explosion, and he looked out of his bedroom window. He saw a man standing guard outside the postoffice and he believes there were two others working in the postoffice. His grandson also got up and when at the window made an outcry. Within a few minutes the men left town.

'WETS' FIGHTING THE 'DRY' WAVE

Dry Leaders Declare That They Would Have Express Wagon Take Place of Saloon

BUILDING STORAGE HOUSES

Shipping Centers Will be Used For States of Colorado and Idaho it is Said.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.) Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Is the express company's little red wheeled wagon to supplant the saloon as the nation's bartender where states have gone dry the wets concentrate their wares and forces in the nearest wet center, says the dries. Wet leaders will not admit it.

On the Pacific Coast Washington and Oregon have gone dry and British Columbia has prohibition as an issue and the wets are moving their plants to California.

"Oregon and Washington will have just as much liquor, but it will be manufactured outside their states," is the wets' belief.

Just a little north of dry Colorado the wets are constructing large warehouses and shipping centers, chief of which is to be Cheyenne, Wyo., Idaho, also dry, likely will be served from there, too.

"Their plan will be a success for a time, perhaps," said E. C. Dinwiddie, national legislative superintendent for the anti-saloon league. "In certain sections they may withstand the dry wave for a while.

"When the Webb-Kenyon bill gets into smooth operation, however, when its constitutionality has been tested everywhere and its loop-holes plugged up, it will be good night for the little red express wagon with the red-eye aboard.

"If the wets want any vehicle at all, they'll have to take the water wagon."

"Facts show," said Hugh F. Harvey, national legislative leader for the wets, that where the saloon goes out, other means of distributing liquor come in. But this nation isn't going dry so fast as you might imagine.

"Many states that go dry have been largely dry for many years under local option. And then perhaps the dries remember a little election up in Minneapolis.

"I wouldn't say quite yet that it's time to hunt up a substitute for the saloon. But at that, the express plan sounds feasible. It probably will serve until the tide turns in the other direction."

Amusements

Joseph E. Howard, who goes the actor-manager one better in that he likewise is the composer of the music for all the plays with which he has been identified, was once asked by an admirer where he turned for inspiration for his tunes of differing theme and character. Mr. Howard, who has achieved a new triumph in his score for "The Girl of Tomorrow" which will be seen in Indianapolis at the Shubert Murat theater, commencing on Tuesday, November 16th, matinee Wednesday and Saturday, with Mr. Howard heading the cast, says it is very simple.

"When I wrote my first score," said Mr. Howard, "I worked hard over it, sitting at the piano for hours at a stretch trying to evolve the melody I wanted. But ever since that time, I have seemingly been able to compose my tunes with little effort; due, I suppose, to the fact that my subconscious mind is forever alert for melodious sounds, and I am always, consciously or unconsciously, seeking, grasping and retaining for future reference combinations of sounds that form the basis of the tunes I write. While it would be impossible for me to trace each melody back to its conception, I am aware of the source of some of my inspirations, and find they sprang from the common, everyday events of life. For instance, one of my most successful songs was the result of a wearisome train ride, when I sat, half-asleep, and listening to the pounding of the car wheels, the sound of the dust and gravel thrown against the car windows of the rushing train, and the whistles and bell-ringing as we dashed through villages. I was not consciously in quest of music—aboard a limited train is scarcely the place to look for melody—yet there suddenly came from the jangle of sounds a well-defined series of notes that ran into a tune and got me to humming it over and over. The ticking of a clock once provided me with an inspiration, and, what might be considered as rather more amusing than correct but which is nevertheless a sincere statement of fact, the clinking of dishes in a Chicago cafe did much toward adding to my reputation as a composer."

Seats for this attraction can be purchased through the Shubert Mura local representatives, Hargrove & Mullin, druggists.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and thickness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mages the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

SEAMEN'S LAW IS EXPLAINED

La Follette Act Provides For Many Things Regarding Welfare of Officers And Crew

BERTHS FOR EACH ON BOAT

When a Sailor Quits he Cannot be Imprisoned or Forced to Work Under New Law

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.) Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Here is just what the new La Follette Seamen's act provides for officers, sailors and public, with the Commerce department's rulings on certain sections of the law incorporated.

Section 1 compels a ship captain, short-handed during a voyage to fill the vacancies with men of the same or higher rating before proceeding. Section 2 makes 9 hours a day's work in port. Section 3 provides that for every day's delay in collecting his wages, a man gets double pay.

Section 4 provides that in any port a sailor on any ship may collect half his pay or complain to U. S. officers and get full pay and the right to quit.

Section 5 rules that a majority of the common crew may have the ship examined for seaworthiness, or its supplies for quality, by U. S. agents. Section 6 bids goodbye to the forecastle of fiction. There must be a berth for each man in a clean room drained and ventilated and with shower bath. There must be a ship's hospital.

When a sailor quits, says Section 7, he cannot be imprisoned or forced to work. For insubordination he may be placed in irons and for assaulting an officer, imprisoned 2 days.

Section 9 prohibits flogging sailors. If the master of a vessel fails to deliver such an offender, he and the vessel owners are liable for damages. Section 10 gives 2 ounces of butter and 5 quarts of water to each sailor, daily.

Section 11 prohibits sailors assigning wages to employment officers or saloons. Wages can be assigned only to near relatives. Section 12 prohibits garnishment of wages except by courts acting for near relatives.

Section 13 requires 75 per cent of each crew to understand officers' orders; but orders is all they need understand. Forty per cent of the crew must be able seamen. This will gradually rise to 65 per cent. In 1920. An able seaman must have had 3 years service on the seas or great lakes.

Each lifeboat shall be in charge of an able seaman. Ships more than 20 miles from shore must have lifeboats and life rafts for all, except from May 15 to Sept. 15, when there must be boats and rafts for 70 per cent. On the great lakes, boats for 20 per cent and rafts for 30 per cent are required. Section 15 requires any barge losing a passenger or sailor to report it.

Section 16 and 17 give foreign sailors the right to quit foreign ships in U. S. harbors. All treaties requiring U. S. officers to hunt such deserters are abrogated by Section 8. Section 19 provides that a sailor or ill away from home, is to be cared for by a U. S. consul.

BOYS BUSY WITH AUTUMN LABOR

Indiana Corn is Not the Only Crop That is Being Put in the Bins These Fall Days.

NUTS ARE BEING STORED AWAY

Big Walnut Yield Keeps Young America Busy, But Hickory Nuts and Paw Paws Are Rare.

Indiana corn is not the only crop which has been going into the bins in the last week or more. It is the largest, in the eyes of sedate and elderly people, but it may be said without fear of disproof that the whole corn of the county has not aroused as much enthusiasm as the paw-paw, hickory nut and walnut crops have raised. They are the harvests for the boys.

A stroll through any woods or grove in the vicinity of Rushville now will discover a heap of hulls beneath every walnut tree. Young America has been there with his maillet and his sack. He has carried home a peek, a bushel or perhaps two bushels of walnuts, and an incalculable quantity of stain on his busy young hands. He also has carried home a strong appetite and happy heart, which is taken as the most precious of his cargo.

Hickory nuts are so rare hereabouts that they hardly enter into the boys' autumnal cropping scheme at all. Paw-paws are to be found, but they, too, are rare. The old, reliable walnut, however, is abundant, rich, easily gathered, easily kept, and in all respects the finest wild edible native to this vicinity. These nuts, the market for which is almost a negligible fact here, is, in places, a definite thing. The walnut belt is smaller than many suppose, and in times of peace little Russian, German, Spanish and Italian children receive the common black walnut as quite as great a novelty and a delight as the familiar, thin-shelled English walnut is to the little patrons of Santa Claus in Rush county. The crop of these nuts this year was abundant, and it has been well cared for by the watchful little men of tomorrow. The garnering of this harvest appeals to the meditative side of older minds, and suggest snug firesides and substantial good living during the winter which is drawing near.

Dr. Koo, Chinese Minister to This Country is Remembered by Many Students

ONLY THIRTY YEARS OLD

Said to be a Brilliant Student of International Law—Popular While in College

(By United Press.) New York, Nov. 11.—Hundreds of young men and women scattered throughout the United States remember their young Columbia University friend, V. K. Wellington Koo. It hasn't been so many months since he graduated with them and went home to China. Should they desire to see Dr. Koo now, they will find him, Minister to the United States, at the Chinese Embassy in Washington.

Dr. Koo is just 30 years old. To him has been entrusted the destiny of China in its relation to the Western world. He has dedicated his life to "save China as a nation from being dismembered and swallowed up in the maelstrom of the European war."

Dr. Koo was popular at Columbia a leader in student activities, editor of the college paper, and active in athletic and literary groups. Dr. Koo has grown a trifle more sedate since his diplomatic duties have been put upon him, say his friends who saw him in New York recently. He is hailed by Prof. John Bassett Moore and other enthusiastic American friends as "a most brilliant student of international law, comparable to the prodigies of a century ago.—William Pitt-Fox and Alexander Hamilton."

COAT OF PAINT FOR LIBERTY

Although Art Sharks Object Uncle Sam Says She Must Have Some Glaring Gold

HER COMPLEXION IS AWFUL

From a Distance She Looks Well, But The Statue is Beginning to Show Some Age

(By United Press.)
New York, Nov. 11.—Liberty, who has not washed her face nor dolled up in any way since she walked down here into the water to enlighten the world, is being prepared by Uncle Sam's boys for a renewal of her youth.

Lib is more akin to godliness than cleanliness now. No wonder she shows her age. She is constantly wearied by out-of-town folk running up and down inside her. Her gown of green stain, trimmed in soot and old point moss, has blowed her considerably. Her arms need a ton of soapsuds. Her complexion is awful—very bilious, and all that. Her toga, or pepus, or whatever the classics call her nightgown, needs a scrubbing brush, much.

From a distance, Lib looks rather well in her green outfit. The art sharks call it "precious avatar of the antique" and object to its being disturbed. But Uncle Sam thinks she ought to have a coat of glaring new gold paint. Lib has no choice between art and governmental orders. She'll get the paint.

BAR STARTS REFORMS

First Meeting in Two Years Was Full of Activity

(By United Press.)
Gary, Ind., Nov. 11.—If the Gary association should meet again soon there is no telling what it will do. After waiting two years to meet the association suddenly held a meeting that seethed with activity. Here are some of the things that were done: The city court was termed a "bullpen"; objection was made to the fact that city court cases are tried in low tones. Hammond court proceedings were criticized, it being charged that Gary attorneys often lose cases by default because they are not notified of trial dates. War on the shyster attorneys was started and a committee was named to investigate all attorneys in the city to see whether they have been properly admitted to the bar. Reforms have already been made in the city courts.

NURSED ON EVERY FIELD IN EUROPE

Florence Nightingale, The Second, Knows Scene of Every British Battle Fought

WAS IN SOUTH AFRICAN WAR

By WILBUR FOREST
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Oct. 15 (By Mail)—Florence Nightingale, the Second, is Nurse Borlase, the woman who knows every British battlefield in Europe. She has nursed in England, France, Serbia and the Dardanelles and is now in London to recuperate before she goes to Russia.

On the close cut, mannish jacket of this elderly, grey-haired Florence Nightingale there are two South African war medal ribbons; also Belgian, Serbian, British and French medals, won in the present war.

In the South African war, Nurse Borlase was in the Siege of Ladysmith. The first gun of the European struggle found her nursing in Canada from whence she went to Flanders to nurse the Belgian wounded. Later, after a few months in France, news reached her of the sufferings of the Serbians and the ravages of typhus. Without hesitation she went to Serbia and remained until the scourge had passed.

It was after this that the British landed at the Dardanelles and she journeyed to Gallipoli in time to nurse some of the wounded who are now veterans of that campaign. Here Nurse Borlase's health failed and she returned to London. When this is read in America she will be on her way to Russia.

FIRST CONVENTION HELD

Women of Eleventh District Gather in Huntington

(By United Press.)
Huntington, Ind., Nov. 11.—The first of thirteen district conventions, to be held by the woman suffrage forces of Indiana opened here today. Because it heads the list it was believed probable that new developments in the fight for the cause may become known here.

Women of the eleventh district gathered in force to hear some of the state's best speakers including Mrs. Grace Julian Clarke and Dr. Amelia Keller of Indianapolis, Mrs. Lincoln Lash of Muncie and Mrs. Horace Stilwell of Anderson.

CALLS IT TORTURE

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 11.—Humane Agent Jones will not permit torturing of cockroaches. He made this ruling in the case of a West Side saloonkeeper, whose barkeeper amused himself thus.

A live cockroach was put into an eggshell, and the small opening closed by a cigarette paper being pasted over it. The cockroach running around inside, caused the egg to do tricks on the bar.

FRENCH COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OFTEN GOES AMONG HIS SOLDIERS INCOGNITO

Tale is Told of How General Joseph Joffre Ate Snails With Them And Wasn't Recognized

WANTS INFORMATION RIGHT

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, Oct. 12 (By Mail)—General Jos. Joffre, French commander-in-chief, sometimes lays aside his uniform and goes incognito among his soldiers in the clothes of a citizen.

Joffre wishes first-hand information as to how his men are faring; whether they are satisfied with their lot; if their food is all right and their digestion O. K.

An inhabitant of Rivesalles, Joffre's birthplace down, on the Spanish border, vouches for the truth of the story his son tells in a letter just received.

Fresh from the trenches, the soldier said, he and his two friends were off duty back of the lines. Relatives had sent them 200 snails and these they prepared with Spanish peppers and other strong spices. As they began to eat, a motorcar drew up and stopped. Three or four men in civilian attire got out. One of these came over to the snail-eaters.

"What are you doing there?" the stranger asked.

"Eating snails, as you can see for yourself," one of the soldiers replied in the offhand way soldiers have with "civils," adding: "If you like, you might taste them."

"I won't say no to that," exclaimed the mysterious visitor. He also "gargled" wine, in a way to make jealous the purest of the Catalans.

"Ah!" he exclaimed. "Where did you get it?"

"From a little place you never heard of," he was told. "From Rivesalles."

"From Rivesalles?" the stranger exclaimed. "Do you come from Rivesalles?" "I do."

"What's your name?" The Rivesallian told.

"Your father lives in the third house from the end of the main road entering the village from the south, doesn't he?"

he said, "just tell your mother and father that General Joffre sends them his regards."

The three soldiers sprang to their feet and came to a rigid salute.

WOMEN TO REMAIN NONPARTISAN HERE

Indiana Suffrage League Will Not Take Sides in Order to Get Their Law Enacted

DISAPPROVES OF HECKLING

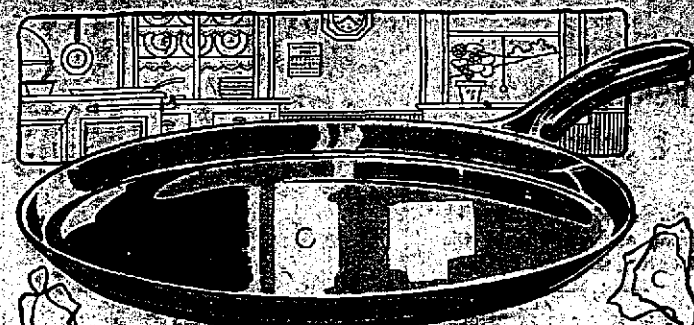

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Nov. 11.—No matter how strenuous becomes the fight for woman suffrage in Indiana, our statesmen need not fear that they may be embarrassed by the women. So long as the Woman's Franchise League of Indiana takes the lead there will be militant methods. Women of the league took pains to enforce this point following a trip through here of the cavalcade of the Women's Congressional union, a rival organization. Members of the league today displayed the rule book of the National American Woman Suffrage association with which the league is affiliated.

Strict non-partisanship is emphasized. This is interpreted as meaning the association does not oppose any political party as such nor any man because he is allied with a certain party. The association believes in state suffrage work as the fundamental means of obtaining suffrage. It disapproves of "heckling and other so called 'militant' activities."

A FEW AT BRAZIL

Brazil, Ind., Nov. 10.—Business is good here especially in the bootlegging. The police here succeeded in taking in one bootlegger a night for the past four Sundays, along with several men with the goods poorly concealed. An imprisonment of 70 days at the penal farm given one of the victims will be enough warning to stop bootlegging in Brazil, it is believed.

At last—a Hot-Air Heating System that everyone can afford!

HERE it is at last—the thing that everyone has been looking for. A heating system that works as thoroughly and satisfactorily as the best small hot-air furnace, yet costs very little more than any ordinary heating stove to buy, no more to install, and much less to operate.

Thousands of people everywhere have already installed it—all over the country people are proclaiming it "The Heating Marvel of the Age."

The diagram shows how it works

Fresh air (just as with a furnace) is drawn in at the sides, heated evenly to several hundred degrees temperature, and discharged—not through the flue and chimney, but through the top of the hot-air chamber into the room. This creates a thorough circulation of hot air that will successfully heat several rooms. Even the upstairs rooms can be heated by the aid of a single connection.

Estate Hot Storm

—the Stove with a "Little Furnace" in it is two heating systems in one—not a stove, not a furnace, but a combination of the best features of both. It sets in the room like a stove, its exterior looks like a stove but there the similarity ends. For its interior is utterly different from any stove you have ever seen—inside it is built like a hot-air furnace.

We want every prospective heating stove purchaser in this locality to inspect the Estate Hot Storm at our store, to give us an opportunity to explain it—before buying a stove of any kind. You owe it to yourself to do this—and to do it soon.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening, and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way, shortly.

LONDON "CRAZY" ABOUT PYJAMAS

Since Zeppelin Raids Started, Everyone at Night is Dressed Fit For Public Gaze

"JOFFRE GREY" IS NEW COLOR

Great Demand Also For Bedroom Slippers—These Run Mostly to Turkish Models

By WILBUR S. FORREST

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
London, Oct. 13 (By Mail)—London's nightshirt is a fearful and wonderful garment, and Count Zeppelin is responsible for this "nighty" revolution.

Since the Count's Zeps have been Zeppening London, no self respecting Londoner has gone to bed in anything unfit for public gaze.

Tasteful blue and pink pyjamas, masculine and feminine variety, the latter beribboned and frilled, are vogue. They have almost entirely superseded the good old homely unfilled "nighty." Fancy red, blue or pink slippers to match the gorgeous "nighties" are also most proper, while it is intimated in the best circles that nightcaps not liquid ones—have come back to their very own. Patent hair curlers have been discarded by the women.

No feminine Londoner, says good authority will take the risk of being "zepped" in these, at least, not in the "zepping" season.

London shopkeepers have let the cat out of the bag. While signing a rush order for hundreds of pairs of the latest model pyjamas, the proprietor of a big London store explained:

"No stage hero in his most admired pyjamas scene is better attired today than the average 'bedroom' Londoner. Men's pyjamas are, of course, the plain article, but the feminine ones have gotten into a class of their own."

The October, 1915, model of the "female pyjama" comes in a pink crepe de chine, cut on a more or less mannish angle and frilled at the waist and ankles with delicately tinted silk ribbon. Another popular model composes a one piece suit with a high waist line and a high neck. Fancy buttons adorn this model—for decorative purposes only.

Pink and blue are the prevailing colors, though there is some talk, say the shopkeepers, of introducing a "Joffre grey." It's a more invisible color.

Nightcaps, whose usage had begun to cease, are adding to the splendor of the newest nightdresses. Women so intrepid as to defy Count Zep and attach the patent curlers, find the nightcap a blessed relief. The latest mode takes the form, principally, of the old Neapolitan cap, sewn of thin yet durable enough material to successfully disguise the curlers or "washerwoman's knots."

Whether the Germans know it or not, the demand for bedroom slippers runs to the fancy Turkish model. But so long as no Turkish imports are available and the brand can be made in England, there is no harm in supplying the demand, believe the London shopkeepers.

WAR NEWS OF ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

The great battle of Ypres, which marked a Teutonic check was at its height. Its six thousand Austrians invading Serbia were cut to pieces. Turks took the El-Arish forts. The Germans took Dixmude and crossed the Yser canal. The Crown Prince assumed supreme command in the East. Russians invaded East Prussia. Premier Asquith predicted an early conclusion of hostilities.

BEGIN IN NEARLY SIXTY COUNTIES

Organizers For Indiana Centennial to be Celebrated in 1916 Begin to Show Activity.

TWO WOMEN ARE LIVE WIRES

John C. Shirk of Brookville Writes of Preparations to Make it Big Occasion There.

Centennial organization has been started in nearly 60 counties of Indiana in which chairmen have been secured. Together these chairmen compose the Grand Committee. They are representative citizens of the state—busy men, already doing things worth while. In the list there are fourteen school men, including county and city superintendents and others, ten attorneys, two judges, five men in general business; five bankers, eight editors, a civil engineer, a manufacturer, a physician, librarian, author, postal clerk, and two or three farmers.

The Grand Centennial Committee so far boasts two women, who promise to be about the liveliest wires of the ninety-two. They are Mrs. R. F. Dooley, Rockville, chairman of Parke county, and Miss Genevieve Williams of Huntingburg, chairman of Dubois. Both already have plans well outlined for next year's celebration in their counties.

The Commission has just issued a timely circular on Pageantry. by George McReynolds, head of the History Department of the Evansville high school. It is full of practical suggestions for next year's Centennial pageants, and will gladly be mailed on inquiry to any address.

Chairman John C. Shirk of Franklin county writes: "In 1898 we had a Home-Coming, and again in 1908 we celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of Brookville, and we made a great success of each occasion. We will make the one hundredth anniversary of our state a greater success. We have fixed the first week in June for the celebration. We will have a pageant, an historical exhibit and a Home-coming as features of the celebration."

"Professor Herbert Briggs, head of the Vocational Department of the Public Schools of Terre Haute" is the registry title of the chairman of Vigo. But it doesn't oppress him a particle. He is the very essence of vim, vigor, and vitality, chuck full of enthusiasm. "Some men swear and spit tobacco for diversion," says Briggs, but he says he finds his in chasing down things historical, including his ancestors. Forget his registry data above, but keep your eye on red headed Briggs of "Terry Hut."

WILL THE WAR END THURSDAY

(By United Press.)
Berlin, Nov. 11.—The European war will end Thursday says a postcard from a German soldier in the Vosges. "Germany's last great war was in 1870-1871. Peace was concluded May 10, 1871. Add 1870 to 1871 and you get 3741. Add the first two figures, 3 and 7, and you get 10. Add the last two and you get 5, meaning—10/5/71." "This war has been in 1914-1915. Add 1914 to 1915 and you get 3829. Add the first two figures and you get 11. Add the last two and you get 11, meaning that peace will come on 11/11/15."

LONDON THEATER 'NAMED' BY WOMEN

Stagehands, Scene Shifters And Other Male Workers at Kingway Enlisted in The War

SKIRTS, SKIRTS EVERYWHERE

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Oct. 15 (By Mail)—A theatre owned and operated by women is London's newest wartime feature.

Stagehands, scene shifters and other male workers at the Kingway enlisted one by one until the playhouse closed. It is now reopened by the proprietress, Miss Lena Ashwell and mere man plays no part in its conduct except as an actor or in the audience.

A comely young woman, well known in London stage circles is stage "manager." The limelights are worked by girls who sit aloft amidst the upper scenes, clad in mannish overalls and linen coats. The electric switchboard operator is likewise feminine.

All the scene shifters wear skirts and have always done so. A uniformed female ticket taker stands at the door while the ticket officers are devoid of men. A woman's orchestra furnishes the music under the footlights. There is even a woman press agent.
